

PROTECTED INNOCENCE INITIATIVE

Creating A Uniform Standard Across States to Combat Domestic Minor Sex Trafficking

ANALYSIS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

OREGON

FRAMEWORK ISSUE 1: CRIMINALIZATION OF DOMESTIC MINOR SEX TRAFFICKING

Legal Components:

- 1.1 The state human trafficking law addresses sex trafficking and clearly defines a human trafficking victim as any minor under the age of 18 used in a commercial sex act without regard to use of force, fraud, or coercion, aligning to the federal trafficking law.
- 1.2 Commercial sexual exploitation of children (CSEC) is identified as a separate and distinct offense from general sexual offenses, which may also be used to prosecute those who commit commercial sex offenses against minors.
- 1.3 CSEC or prostitution statutes refer to the sex trafficking statute to identify the commercially sexually exploited minor as a trafficking victim.

Legal Analysis¹:

- 1.1 The state human trafficking law addresses sex trafficking and clearly defines a human trafficking victim as any minor under the age of 18 used in a commercial sex act without regard to use of force, fraud, or coercion, aligning to the federal trafficking law.

Oregon's trafficking in persons statute does not specifically include sex trafficking of children and requires the use of force even when a minor is the victim. Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266(1) (Trafficking in persons) states,

A person commits the crime of trafficking in persons if the person knowingly:

- (a) Recruits, entices, harbors, transports, provides or obtains by any means, or attempts to recruit, entice, harbor, transport, provide or obtain by any means, another person knowing that the other person will be subjected to involuntary servitude as described in ORS 163.263² or 163.264;³ or

² Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.263 (Subjecting another person to involuntary servitude in the second degree) states,

(1) A person commits the crime of subjecting another person to involuntary servitude in the second degree if the person knowingly and without lawful authority forces or attempts to force the other person to engage in services by:

(b) Benefits financially or receives something of value from participation in a venture that involves an act prohibited by this section or ORS 163.263 or 163.264.

A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266(1) is punishable as a Class B felony by imprisonment up to 10 years and a possible fine not to exceed $250,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 163.266(2), 161.605(2), 161.625(1)(c). However, under Or. Rev. Stat. § 161.625(3)(a), “If a person has gained⁴ money or property through the commission of a felony, then upon conviction thereof the court, in lieu of imposing the fine authorized . . . may sentence the defendant to pay an amount, fixed by the court, not exceeding double the amount of the defendant’s gain from the commission of the crime.”

Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.261 (Definitions) provides the definition of “services” for § 163.263 and § 163.264 by stating, “As used in ORS § 163.263 and § 163.264, ‘services’ means activities performed by one person under the supervision or for the benefit of another person.”

1.1.1 Recommendation: Amend Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266(1) (Trafficking in persons) to address the crime of sex trafficking, differentiate between the trafficking of a minor and the trafficking of an adult, and eliminate the requirement to prove force, fraud, or coercion in the sex trafficking of a minor.⁵

1.2 Commercial sexual exploitation of children (CSEC) is identified as a separate and distinct offense from general sexual offenses, which may also be used to prosecute those who commit commercial sex offenses against minors.

Three laws treat CSEC as distinct crimes in Oregon:

1. Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.017(1)(b), (c), (d) (Compelling prostitution)⁶ makes it illegal if a person “(b) Induces or causes a person under 18 years of age to engage in prostitution; (c) Aids or facilitates the commission of prostitution by a person under 18 years of age; or (d) Induces or causes the spouse, child or stepchild of the person to engage in prostitution.” A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.017(1) is punishable as a Class B felony by imprisonment up to 10 years and a possible fine not exceeding $250,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 167.017(2), 161.605(2), 161.625(1)(c).

- (a) Abusing or threatening to abuse the law or legal process;
 - (b) Destroying, concealing, removing, confiscating or possessing an actual or purported passport or immigration document or another actual or purported government identification document of a person;
 - (c) Threatening to report a person to a government agency for the purpose of arrest or deportation;
 - (d) Threatening to collect an unlawful debt; or
 - (e) Instilling in the other person a fear that the actor will withhold from the other person the necessities of life, including but not limited to lodging, food and clothing.

(2) Subjecting another person to involuntary servitude in the second degree is a Class C felony.

³ Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.264 (Subjecting another person to involuntary servitude in the first degree) states,

(1) A person commits the crime of subjecting another person to involuntary servitude in the first degree if the person knowingly and without lawful authority forces or attempts to force the other person to engage in services by:

- (a) Causing or threatening to cause the death of or serious physical injury to a person; or
- (b) Physically restraining or threatening to physically restrain a person.

(2) Subjecting another person to involuntary servitude in the first degree is a Class B felony.

2. Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.670(1) (Using child in display of sexually explicit conduct)⁷ states in part, “A person commits the crime of using a child⁸ in a display of sexually explicit conduct⁹ if the person employs, authorizes, permits, compels or induces a child to participate or engage in sexually explicit conduct for any person to observe or to record in a visual recording.”¹⁰ A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.670 is punishable as a class A felony by imprisonment up to 20 years and a possible fine not exceeding $375,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 163.670(2), 161.605(1), 161.625(1)(b).

3. Enacted House Bill 2714¹¹ states,

(1) A person commits the crime of patronizing a prostitute if the person pays, or offers or agrees to pay, a fee to engage in sexual conduct or sexual contact.

(2) Patronizing a prostitute is a Class A misdemeanor.

(3)(a) When a person convicted of violating this section is 18 years of age or older at the time the offense is committed and the person paid, or offered or agreed to pay, a fee to a minor to engage in sexual conduct or sexual contact, in addition to any other sentence that may be imposed, the court shall impose and may not suspend the sentence described in paragraph (b) of this subsection.

(b) Notwithstanding ORS 161.635 [Fines for misdemeanors], the mandatory minimum sentences that apply to paragraph (a) of this subsection are as follows:

(A) For a person’s first conviction, a fine in the amount of $ 10,000.

(B) For a person’s second conviction, a fine in the amount of $ 20,000 and a term of incarceration of at least seven days.

(C) For a person’s third or subsequent conviction, a fine in the amount of $ 20,000 and a term of incarceration of at least 30 days.

(c) Notwithstanding paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subsection, if the court determines that the person is unable to pay the full amount of the mandatory minimum fine, the court shall impose and may not suspend a fine in an amount the court determines the person is able to pay.

Several other laws, although not expressly commercial in nature, also may be applicable in cases involving the commercial sexual exploitation of a child:

⁸ Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.665(1) (Definitions) defines “child” as “a person who is less than 18 years of age, and any reference to a child in relation to a visual recording of the child is a reference to a person who was less than 18 years of age at the time the original image in the visual recording was created and not the age of the person at the time of an alleged offense relating to the subsequent reproduction, use or possession of the visual recording.” Here and elsewhere in this report that Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.665 is quoted or cited, the language has been updated to reflect the passage of Senate Bill 803 in the 76th Legislative Assembly. 2011 Or. Laws 515 (effective upon passage).

⁹ Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.665(3) (Definitions) states,

“Sexually explicit conduct” means actual or simulated:

(a) Sexual intercourse or deviant sexual intercourse;

(b) Genital-genital, oral-genital, anal-genital or oral-anal contact, whether between persons of the same or opposite sex or between humans and animals;

(c) Penetration of the vagina or rectum by any object other than as part of a medical diagnosis or treatment or as part of a personal hygiene practice;

(d) Masturbation;

(e) Sadistic or masochistic abuse; or

(f) Lewd exhibition of sexual or other intimate parts.

¹⁰ Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.665(5) (Definitions) states, ““Visual recording” includes, but is not limited to, visual recordings, pictures and computer-generated images and pictures, whether made or produced by electronic, mechanical or other means.”

1. Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.355(1) (Rape in the third degree) states, “A person commits the crime of rape in the third degree if the person has sexual intercourse with another person under 16 years of age.” A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.355(1) is punishable as a Class C felony by imprisonment up to 5 years and a possible fine not to exceed $125,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 163.355(2), 161.605(3), 161.625(1)(d).
2. Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.365(1) (Rape in the second degree) states, “A person who has sexual intercourse with another person commits the crime of rape in the second degree if the other person is under 14 years of age.” A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.365(1) is punishable as a Class B felony by imprisonment up to 10 years and a possible fine not to exceed $250,000.” Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 163.365(2), 161.605(2), 161.625(1)(c).
3. Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.375(1) (Rape in the first degree) states,
 - (1) A person who has sexual intercourse with another person commits the crime of rape in the first degree if:
 - (a) The victim is subjected to forcible compulsion by the person;
 - (b) The victim is under 12 years of age;

A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.375(1) is punishable as a Class A felony by imprisonment up to 20 years and a possible fine not to exceed $375,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 163.375(2), 161.605(1), 161.625(1)(b).

4. Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.408(1) (Unlawful sexual penetration in the second degree) states that “a person commits the crime of unlawful sexual penetration in the second degree if the person penetrates the vagina, anus or penis of another with any object other than the penis or mouth of the actor and the victim is under 14 years of age.” A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.408(1) is punishable as a Class B felony by imprisonment up to 10 years and a possible fine not to exceed $250,000.” Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 163.408(2), 161.605(2), 161.625(1)(c).
5. Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.411(1) (Unlawful sexual penetration in the first degree) states,
 - (1) Except as permitted under ORS 163.412 [Exceptions to unlawful sexual penetration prohibition], a person commits the crime of unlawful sexual penetration in the first degree if the person penetrates the vagina, anus or penis of another with any object other than the penis or mouth of the actor and:
 - (a) The victim is subjected to forcible compulsion;
 - (b) The victim is under 12 years of age; or
 - (c) The victim is incapable of consent by reason of mental defect, mental incapacitation or physical helplessness.

A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.411(1) is punishable as a Class A felony by imprisonment up to 20 years and a possible fine not to exceed $375,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 163.411(2), 161.605(1), 161.625(1)(b).

6. Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.415(1)(a)(B) (Sexual abuse in the third degree) makes it illegal if any person “subjects another person to sexual contact and: . . . (B) The victim is incapable of consent by reason of being under 18 years of age.” A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.415(1) is punishable as a Class A misdemeanor by imprisonment up to 1 year and a possible fine not to exceed $6,250. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 163.415(2), 161.615(1), 161.635(a).
7. Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.427(1)(a)(A) (Sexual abuse in the first degree) makes it illegal if any person “[s]ubjects another person to sexual contact and: (A) The victim is less than 14 years of age.” A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.427(1)(a)(A) is punishable as a Class B felony by imprisonment up to 10 years and a possible fine not to exceed $250,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 163.427(2), 161.605(2), 161.625(1)(c).

8. Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.435(1) (Contributing to the sexual delinquency of a minor) states,

(1) A person 18 years of age or older commits the crime of contributing to the sexual delinquency of a minor if:

- (a) Being a male, he engages in sexual intercourse with a female under 18 years of age; or
- (b) Being a female, she engages in sexual intercourse with a male under 18 years of age; or
- (c) The person engages in deviate sexual intercourse with another person under 18 years of age or causes that person to engage in deviate sexual intercourse.

A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.435(1) is punishable as a Class A misdemeanor by imprisonment up to 1 year and a possible fine not to exceed $6,250. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 163.435(2), 161.615(1), 161.635(a).

9. Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.445(1) (Sexual misconduct) states, “A person commits the crime of sexual misconduct if the person engages in sexual intercourse or deviate sexual intercourse with an unmarried person under 18 years of age. A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. 163.445(1) is punishable as a Class C misdemeanor by imprisonment up to 30 days and a possible fine not to exceed $1,250. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 163.445(2), 161.615(3), 161.635(c).

1.3 CSEC or prostitution statutes refer to the sex trafficking statute to identify the commercially sexually exploited minor as a trafficking victim.

Neither the CSEC statutes nor the sexual offenses identified in Section 1.2 refer to Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266 (Trafficking in persons).

1.3.1. Recommendation: Amend Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.017(1) (Compelling prostitution), § 163.670(1) (Using child in display of sexually explicit conduct), and the statute added by House Bill 2714 to clarify that persons under 18 involved in commercial sexual activity are trafficking victims.

Legal Components:

- 2.1 The state sex trafficking law can be applied to the buyers of commercial sex acts with a victim of domestic minor sex trafficking.
- 2.2 Buyers of commercial sex acts with a minor can be prosecuted under CSEC laws.
- 2.3 Solicitation laws differentiate buying sex acts with an adult and buying sex acts with a minor under 18.
- 2.4 Penalties for buyers of commercial sex acts with minors are as high as federal penalties.
- 2.5 Using the Internet to lure, entice, or purchase, or attempt to lure, entice, or purchase commercial sex acts with a minor is a separate crime or results in an enhanced penalty for buyers.
- 2.6 No age mistake defense is permitted for a buyer of commercial sex acts with any minor under 18.
- 2.7 Base penalties for buying sex acts with a minor are sufficiently high for all minors under 18 and not reduced for older minors.
- 2.8 Financial penalties for buyers of commercial sex acts with minors are sufficiently high to make it difficult for buyers to hide the crime.
- 2.9 Buying and possessing child pornography carries penalties as high as similar federal offenses.
- 2.10 Convicted buyers of commercial sex acts with minors and child pornography are required to register as sex offenders.

Legal Analysis:

- 2.1 The state sex trafficking law can be applied to the buyers of commercial sex acts with a victim of domestic minor sex trafficking.

Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266(1)(a) (Trafficking in persons) might apply to buyers of sex with victims of domestic minor sex trafficking through the term “obtain.” Federal prosecutors, under the Trafficking Victims Protection Act (TVPA),¹² have applied the crime of human trafficking to attempted buyers of commercial sex with minors by charging that the buyers attempted to “obtain”¹³ a person under 18 to engage in commercial sex.¹⁴ It is unsettled whether the courts will uphold this interpretation of the TVPA. It is arguable, therefore, that the term “obtain” in Oregon’s trafficking statute may be similarly applied, and could, therefore, implicate buyers under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266(1)(a). Even if applied, however, the placement of the word “obtain” in Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266, requires the buyer to use force and have knowledge “that the other person will be subjected to involuntary servitude as described in ORS 163.263¹⁵ or 163.264.”¹⁶ Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266(1)(a).

- 2.1.1 Recommendation: Amend Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266 (Trafficking in persons) to clearly make it apply to buyers of commercial sex with minors and to remove the requirement to prove knowledge that force, fraud, or coercion was used to cause the person to engage in “services” where the person is a minor.

2.2 Buyers of commercial sex acts with a minor can be prosecuted under CSEC laws.

Enacted House Bill 2714¹⁷ applies to buyers of sex with minors but does not refer to Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266 (Trafficking in persons). Although not yet codified, the law reads in part,

- (1) A person commits the crime of patronizing a prostitute if the person pays, or offers or agrees to pay, a fee to engage in sexual conduct or sexual contact.
- (2) Patronizing a prostitute is a Class A misdemeanor. (3)(a) When a person convicted of violating this section is 18 years of age or older at the time the offense is committed and the person paid, or offered or agreed to pay, a fee to a minor to engage in sexual conduct or sexual contact, in addition to any other sentence that may be imposed, the court shall impose and may not suspend the sentence described in paragraph (b) of this subsection.
 - (b) Notwithstanding ORS 161.635 [Fines for misdemeanors], the mandatory minimum sentences that apply to paragraph (a) of this subsection are as follows:
 - (A) For a person’s first conviction, a fine in the amount of $ 10,000.
 - (B) For a person’s second conviction, a fine in the amount of $ 20,000 and a term of incarceration of at least seven days.
 - (C) For a person’s third or subsequent conviction, a fine in the amount of $ 20,000 and a term of incarceration of at least 30 days.

Several sexual offenses might apply to certain buyers of sex acts with a minor.¹⁸

2.3 Solicitation laws differentiate buying sex acts with an adult and buying sex acts with a minor under 18.

The crime of buying sex with a minor results in enhanced penalties pursuant to House Bill 2714¹⁹ which criminalizes a person who is at least 18 years old who “(3)(a) . . . offered or agreed to pay, a fee to a minor to engage in sexual conduct or sexual contact.” A conviction under House Bill 2714(3)(a) is punishable as follows:

- (b) Notwithstanding ORS 161.635 [Fines for misdemeanors], the mandatory minimum sentences that apply to paragraph (a) of this subsection are as follows:
 - (A) For a person’s first conviction, a fine in the amount of $ 10,000.
 - (B) For a person’s second conviction, a fine in the amount of $ 20,000 and a term of incarceration of at least seven days.
 - (C) For a person’s third or subsequent conviction, a fine in the amount of $ 20,000 and a term of incarceration of at least 30 days.
- (c) Notwithstanding paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subsection, if the court determines that the person is unable to pay the full amount of the mandatory minimum fine, the court shall impose and may not suspend a fine in an amount the court determines the person is able to pay.

In contrast, a conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.007(1)(b) (Prostitution), which criminalizes any person who “pays or offers or agrees to pay a fee to engage in sexual conduct²⁰ or sexual contact,”²¹ is punishable as a Class

¹⁷ See supra note 11.

¹⁸ See supra Section 1.2 for discussion of the sexual offenses that may apply to some buyers.

²⁰ Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.002(4) (Definitions) defines “sexual conduct” as “sexual intercourse or deviate sexual intercourse.”

A misdemeanor by up to 1 year imprisonment and a possible fine not to exceed $ 6,250. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 167.007(2), 161.615(1), 161.635(a).

2.4 Penalties for buyers of commercial sex acts with minors are as high as federal penalties.

Penalties for buyers of commercial sex acts with minors are not as high as federal penalties and vary greatly depending on the choice of laws for prosecution. A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266(1)(a) (Trafficking in persons), if used to prosecute a buyer, is a Class B felony with a maximum imprisonment of 10 years and a possible fine not to exceed $250,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 161.605(2), 161.625(1)(c).

A conviction for violating § 167.007(1)(b) (Prostitution) is punishable as a Class A misdemeanor by imprisonment up to 1 year and a possible fine not to exceed $6,250. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 167.007(2), 161.615(1), 161.635(a). However, pursuant to enacted House Bill 2714, subsection (3)(a) states in part, “in addition to any other sentence that may be imposed, the court shall impose and may not suspend the sentence described in paragraph (b) of this subsection.” Subsection (b) provides for the following “mandatory minimum sentences” when the offender is 18 years of age or older and offers to pay for sexual conduct with a minor:

(A) For a person’s first conviction, a fine in the amount of $10,000.

(B) For a person’s second conviction, a fine in the amount of $20,000 and a term of incarceration of at least seven days.

(C) For a person’s third or subsequent conviction, a fine in the amount of $20,000 and a term of incarceration of at least 30 days.

In comparison, if the victim is under the age of 14, a conviction under the TVPA for child sex trafficking is punishable by 15 years to life imprisonment and a fine not to exceed $250,000. 18 U.S.C. §§ 1591(b)(1), 3559(a)(1), 3571(b)(3). If the victim is between the ages of 14–17, a conviction is punishable by 10 years to life imprisonment and a fine not to exceed $250,000. 18 U.S.C. §§ 1591(b)(2), 3559(a)(1), 3571(b)(3). A conviction is punishable by mandatory life imprisonment, however, if the buyer has a prior conviction for a federal sex offense²² against a minor. 18 U.S.C. § 3559(e)(1). To the extent buyers can be prosecuted under other federal CSEC laws,²³ a conviction is punishable by penalties ranging from a fine not to exceed $250,000 to life imprisonment and a fine not to exceed $250,000.²⁴

²² Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3559(e)(2), “federal sex offense” is defined as an offense under section 1591 [18 USCS § 1591] (relating to sex trafficking of children), 2241 [18 USCS § 2241] (relating to aggravated sexual abuse), 2242 [18 USCS § 2242] (relating to sexual abuse), 2244(a)(1) [18 USCS § 2244(a)(1)] (relating to abusive sexual contact), 2245 [18 USCS § 2245] (relating to sexual abuse resulting in death), 2251 [18 USCS § 2251] (relating to sexual exploitation of children), 2251A [18 USCS § 2251A] (relating to selling or buying of children), 2422(b) [18 USCS § 2422(b)] (relating to coercion and enticement of a minor into prostitution), or 2423(a) [18 USCS § 2423(a)] (relating to transportation of minors).

²⁴ 18 U.S.C. §§ 2251A(b) (conviction punishable by imprisonment for 30 years to life and a fine), 2251(e) (conviction punishable by imprisonment for 15–30 years and a fine), 2423(a) (conviction punishable by imprisonment for 10 years to life and a fine), 2422(a) (conviction punishable by a fine, imprisonment up to 20 years, or both), 2252(a)(2), (4) (stating that a conviction under subsection (a)(2) is punishable by imprisonment for 5–20 years and a fine, while a conviction under subsection (a)(4) is punishable by imprisonment up to 10 years, a fine, or both); see also 18 U.S.C. §§ 3559(a)(1) (classifying all of the above listed offenses as felonies), 3571(b)(3) (providing a fine up to $250,000 for any felony conviction).

2.5 Using the Internet to lure, entice, or purchase, or attempt to lure, entice, or purchase commercial sex acts with a minor is a separate crime or results in an enhanced penalty for buyers.

Use of the Internet to engage and to offer or agree to meet a minor sexually is prohibited in two statutes although neither specifically refers to a commercial sexual arrangement. Pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.432(1) (Online sexual corruption of a child in the second degree),

(1) A person commits the crime of online sexual corruption of a child²⁵ in the second degree if the person is 18 years of age or older and:

- (a) For the purpose of arousing or gratifying the sexual desire of the person or another person, knowingly uses an online communication²⁶ to solicit²⁷ a child to engage in sexual contact²⁸ or sexually explicit conduct;²⁹ and
- (b) Offers or agrees to physically meet with the child.

A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.432(1) is punishable as a Class C felony punishable by imprisonment up to 5 years and a possible fine not to exceed $125,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 163.432(2), 161.605(3), 161.625(1)(d).

Pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.433(1) (Online sexual corruption of a child in the first degree), “A person commits the crime of online sexual corruption of a child in the first degree if the person violates ORS 163.432 and intentionally takes a substantial step toward physically meeting with or encountering the child.” A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.433 is punishable as a Class B felony by imprisonment up to 10 years and a possible fine not to exceed $250,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 163.433(2), 161.605(2), 161.625(1)(c).

2.6 No age mistake defense is permitted for a buyer of commercial sex acts with any minor under 18.

Enacted House Bill 2714³⁰ states, “(1) A person commits the crime of patronizing a prostitute if the person pays, or offers or agrees to pay, a fee to engage in sexual conduct or sexual contact.” Subsection (3)(d) states,

In a prosecution in which it is alleged that this subsection applies, the state need not prove that the person knew the minor was under 18 years of age and it is no defense that the person did not know the minor’s age or that the person reasonably believed the minor to be 18 years of age or older.

Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.325(1) (Ignorance or mistake as a defense) states, “(1) In any prosecution under ORS § 163.355 [Rape in the third degree] to 163.445 [Sexual misconduct] in which the criminality of conduct depends on a child’s being under the age of 16, it is no defense that the defendant did not know the child’s age or that the defendant reasonably believed the child to be older than the age of 16.” However, subsection (2) states, “(2) When criminality depends on the child’s being under a specified age other than 16, it is an affirmative defense for the defendant to prove that the defendant reasonably believed the child to be above the specified age at the time of the alleged offense.”

²⁵ Pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.431(1), “child” means “a person who the defendant reasonably believes to be under 16 years of age.”

²⁷ Pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.431(5), “solicit” means “to invite, request, seduce, lure, entice, persuade, prevail upon, coax, coerce or attempt to do so.”

²⁹ Pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.431(4) “sexually explicit conduct” has the meaning given that term in ORS 163.665; see supra note 9 for the definition of “sexually explicit conduct.”

³⁰ See supra note 11.

With regard to Oregon’s pornography statutes, Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.690 states “an affirmative defense to any prosecution under ORS 163.684 [Encouraging child sexual abuse in the first degree], 163.686 [Encouraging child sexual abuse in the second degree], 163.687 [Encouraging child sexual abuse in the third degree] or 163.693 [Failure to report child pornography] that the defendant, at the time of engaging in the conduct prohibited therein, did not know and did not have reason to know that the relevant sexually explicit conduct involved a child.”

2.7 Base penalties for buying sex acts with a minor are sufficiently high for all minors under 18 and not reduced for older minors.

The penalty for buying sex with any minor does not vary based on the age of the victim under 18, pursuant to the provisions enacted in House Bill 2714.³¹

2.8 Financial penalties for buyers of commercial sex acts with minors are sufficiently high to make it difficult for buyers to hide the crime.

A conviction under the enacted provisions of enacted House Bill 2714³² for patronizing a prostitute when the victim is a minor is punishable as follows:

- (3) (a) . . . in addition to any other sentence that may be imposed, the court shall impose and may not suspend the sentence described in paragraph (b) of this subsection.
- (b) Notwithstanding ORS 161.635, the mandatory minimum sentences that apply to paragraph (a) of this subsection are as follows:
 - (A) For a person’s first conviction, a fine in the amount of $ 10,000.
 - (B) For a person’s second conviction, a fine in the amount of $ 20,000 . . .
 - (C) For a person’s third or subsequent conviction, a fine in the amount of $ 20,000 . . .

A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266(1)(a) (Trafficking in persons) or Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.433(1) (Online sexual corruption of a child in the first degree) is punishable as a Class B felony punishable by a possible fine not exceeding $250,000. Or. Rev. Stat. § 161.625(1)(c). A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.432 (Online sexual corruption of a child in the second degree) is punishable as a Class C felony punishable by a possible fine not to exceed $125,000. Or. Rev. Stat. § 161.625(1)(d).

Buyers may also be subject to certain forfeiture provisions. Or. Rev. Stat. § 131.553(1)(e) (Legislative findings; effect on local laws; remedy not exclusive) calls “for the forfeiture of certain property subject to criminal forfeiture under ORS 131.550 to 131.600, to provide for the protection of the rights and interests of affected persons . . . that pertain to the criminal forfeiture of real and personal property based upon prohibited conduct.”

Or. Rev. Stat. § 131.558 (Property subject to forfeiture) includes the following in the list of property that is subject to criminal forfeiture:

- (4) . . . all conveyances, including aircraft, vehicles and vessels, that are used or intended for use in prohibited conduct or to facilitate prohibited conduct . . .
- . . .
- (5) All books, records, computers and research, including formulae, microfilm, tapes and data that are used or intended for use to facilitate prohibited conduct;
- (6) All moneys, negotiable instruments, balances in deposit or other accounts, securities or other things of value furnished or intended to be furnished by any person in the course of prohibited conduct, all proceeds of or from prohibited conduct, and all moneys, negotiable instruments, balances in deposit and other accounts and securities used or intended to be used to facilitate any prohibited conduct;

³¹ See supra note 11.

³² See supra note 11.

(7) All real property, including any right, title and interest in the whole of any lot or tract of land and any appurtenances or improvements, that is used or intended to be used to commit or facilitate the commission of prohibited conduct;

(10) All personal property that is used or intended to be used to commit or facilitate prohibited conduct.

“Prohibited conduct” is defined in Or. Rev. Stat. § 131.550(12) (Definitions) as the following: “(a) For purposes of proceeds, a felony or a Class A misdemeanor. (b) For purposes of instrumentalities, any crime listed in ORS 131.602.” Under Or. Rev. Stat. § 131.602 (Prohibited conduct for purposes of instrumentalities of crime) the following crimes are included: Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.007 (Prostitution), § 163.264 (Subjecting another person to involuntary servitude in the first degree), patronizing a prostitute as prohibited by enacted House Bill 2714, § 163.263 (Subjecting another person to involuntary servitude in the second degree), § 163.266 (Trafficking in persons), § 167.057 (Luring a minor), § 163.432 (Online sexual corruption of a child in the second degree), § 163.433 (Online sexual corruption of a child in the first degree), and an attempt, conspiracy, or solicitation to commit one of those crimes if it would result in either a felony or a Class A misdemeanor.³³

A buyer may also be subject to restitution pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 137.106 (Restitution to victims), which requires the district attorney to investigate and present to the court evidence of economic damages suffered as a result of the crime. The court is authorized to order restitution³⁴ as part of a criminal case when the crime “has resulted in economic damages.”³⁵ Or. Rev. Stat. § 137.106(1).

Furthermore, Or. Rev. Stat. § 30.867(1) (Action for violation of criminal laws relating to involuntary servitude or trafficking in persons) specifically provides the right to civil action for damages suffered by a victim of human trafficking and involuntary servitude irrespective of the initiation or outcome of any criminal action. Victims of these crimes may recover “(a) Both special and general damages, including damages for emotional distress; and (b) Punitive damages,” as well as reasonable attorney fees. Or. Rev. Stat. § 30.867(2), (3). The statute gives victims six years from the date of the conduct to file a civil claim for damages. Or. Rev. Stat. § 30.867(4).

2.9 Buying and possessing child pornography carries penalties as high as similar federal offenses.

Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.686(1) (Encouraging child sexual abuse in the second degree)³⁶ states,

(1) A person commits the crime of encouraging child sexual abuse³⁷ in the second degree if the person:

³³ Or. Rev. Stat. § 131.602 has been amended by House Bill 2714, House Bill 3323, and Senate Bill 376 during the 76th Legislative Assembly. 2011 Or. Laws 151; 2011 Or. Laws 552; 2011 Or. Laws 681. As a result of subsections added and deleted by each of these bills, the offenses listed above would be found in subsections (90), (91), and (138)–(144).

³⁵ Or. Rev. Stat. § 137.103(2) states,

- (2) “Economic damages”:
- (a) Has the meaning given that term in ORS 31.710, except that “economic damages” does not include future impairment of earning capacity; and
 - (b) In cases involving criminal activities described in ORS 163.263, 163.264 or 163.266, includes the greater of:
 - (A) The value to the defendant of the victim’s services as defined in ORS 163.261; or
 - (B) The value of the victim’s services, as defined in ORS 163.261, computed using the minimum wage established under ORS 653.025 and the overtime provisions of the federal Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (29 U.S.C. 201 et seq.).

³⁶ Here and elsewhere in this report that Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.686 is quoted or cited, the language has been updated to reflect the passage of Senate Bill 803 in the 76th Legislative Assembly. 2011 Or. Laws 515 (effective upon passage).

- (a) (A) (i) Knowingly possesses or controls, or knowingly accesses with the intent to view, a visual recording³⁸ of sexually explicit conduct³⁹ involving a child⁴⁰ for the purpose of arousing or satisfying the sexual desires of the person or another person; or
- (ii) Knowingly pays, exchanges or gives anything of value to obtain or view a visual recording of sexually explicit conduct involving a child for the purpose of arousing or satisfying the sexual desires of the person or another person; and
- (B) Knows or is aware of and consciously disregards the fact that creation of the visual recording of sexually explicit conduct involved child abuse; or
- (b) (A) Knowingly pays, exchanges or gives anything of value to observe sexually explicit conduct by a child or knowingly observes, for the purpose of arousing or gratifying the sexual desire of the person, sexually explicit conduct by a child; and
- (B) Knows or is aware of and consciously disregards the fact that the conduct constitutes child abuse.

A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.686(1) is punishable as a Class C felony by imprisonment up to 5 years and a possible fine not to exceed $125,000. Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.686(2), 161.605(3), 161.625(1)(d).

Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.687(1) (Encouraging child sexual abuse in the third degree)⁴¹ states,

A person commits the crime of encouraging child sexual abuse in the third degree if the person:

- (a) (A) (i) Knowingly possesses or controls, or knowingly accesses with the intent to view, a visual recording⁴² of sexually explicit conduct⁴³ involving a child for the purpose of arousing or satisfying the sexual desires of the person or another person; or
- (ii) Knowingly pays, exchanges or gives anything of value to obtain or view a visual recording of sexually explicit conduct involving a child for the purpose of arousing or satisfying the sexual desires of the person or another person; and
- (B) Knows or fails to be aware of a substantial and unjustifiable risk that the creation of the visual recording of sexually explicit conduct involved child abuse; or
- (b)(A) Knowingly pays, exchanges or gives anything of value to observe sexually explicit conduct by a child or knowingly observes, for the purpose of arousing or gratifying the sexual desire of the person, sexually explicit conduct by a child; and
- (B) Knows or fails to be aware of a substantial and unjustifiable risk that the conduct constitutes child abuse.

A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.687(1) is punishable as a Class A misdemeanor by imprisonment up to 1 year and a possible fine not to exceed $6,250. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 163.687(2), 161.615(1), 161.635(a).

Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.688(1)⁴⁴ (Possession of materials depicting sexually explicit conduct of a child in the first degree) states, “A person commits the crime of possession of materials depicting sexually explicit conduct of a child” if the person, “(a) Knowingly possesses, accesses or views a visual depiction of sexually explicit conduct involving a child or a visual depiction of sexually explicit conduct that appears to involve a child; and (b) Uses the visual depiction to induce a child to participate or engage in sexually explicit conduct.” A conviction under ³⁷ Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.665(2) (Definitions) defines “child abuse” as “conduct that constitutes, or would constitute if committed in this state, a crime in which the victim is a child.”

Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.688 is punishable as a Class B felony punishable by imprisonment up to 10 years and a possible fine not to exceed $250,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 163.688(2), 161.605(2), 161.625(1)(c).

Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.689(1)⁴⁵ (Possession of materials depicting sexually explicit conduct of a child in the second degree) states, “A person commits the crime of possession of materials depicting sexually explicit conduct” if the person, “(a) Knowingly possesses, accesses or views a visual depiction of sexually explicit conduct involving a child or a visual depiction of sexually explicit conduct that appears to involve a child; and (b) Intends to use the visual depiction to induce a child to participate or engage in sexually explicit conduct.” A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.689(1) is punishable as a Class C felony by imprisonment up to 5 years and possible fine not to exceed $125,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 163.689(2), 161.605(3), 161.625(1)(d).

In comparison, a federal conviction for possession of child pornography⁴⁶ is generally punishable by imprisonment for 5–20 years and a fine not to exceed $250,000.⁴⁷ Subsequent convictions, however, are punishable by imprisonment up to 40 years and a fine not to exceed $250,000.⁴⁸

2.10 Convicted buyers of commercial sex acts with minors and child pornography are required to register as sex offenders.

The definition of “sex crime” in Or. Rev. Stat. § 181.594 (Definitions),⁴⁹ which provides the definitions for the sex offender registry, includes several provisions that could be applicable to certain buyers of commercial sex with a minor, including, but not limited to the following:

- (a) Rape in any degree;
- (b) Sodomy in any degree;
- (c) Unlawful sexual penetration in any degree;
- (d) Sexual abuse in any degree;
- (g) Encouraging child sexual abuse in any degree;
- (h) Transporting child pornography into the state;
- (i) Paying for viewing a child’s sexually explicit conduct;
- (m) Contributing to the sexual delinquency of a minor;
- (n) Sexual misconduct if the offender is at least 18 years of age;
- (o) Possession of materials depicting sexually explicit conduct of a child in the first degree;

- (p) Kidnapping in the second degree if the victim was under 18 years of age, except by a parent or by a person found to be within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court;
- (q) Online sexual corruption of a child in any degree if the offender reasonably believed the child to be more than five years younger than the offender;
- ...
- (s) Any attempt to commit any of the crimes set forth in paragraphs (a) to (r) of this subsection;

However, neither Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266 (Trafficking in persons) nor Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.007 (Prostitution), amended by enacted House Bill 2714, is included in the list of sex crimes for which a convicted person must register as a sex offender. Or. Rev. Stat. § 181.595(2)(A).

- 2.10.1 Recommendation: Add Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266 (Trafficking in persons) and Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.007 (Prostitution), amended by enacted House Bill 2714, to the list of crimes for which a convicted person must register as a sex offender if the crime is committed against a minor.

FRAMEWORK ISSUE 3: CRIMINAL PROVISIONS FOR TRAFFICKERS

Legal Components:

- 3.1 Penalties for trafficking a child for sexual exploitation are as high as federal penalties.
- 3.2 Creating and distributing child pornography carries penalties as high as similar federal offenses.
- 3.3 Using the Internet to lure, entice, recruit or sell commercial sex acts with a minor is a separate crime or results in an enhanced penalty for traffickers.
- 3.4 Financial penalties for traffickers, including asset forfeiture, are sufficiently high.
- 3.5 Convicted traffickers are required to register as sex offenders.
- 3.6 Laws relating to termination of parental rights for certain offenses include sex trafficking or CSEC offenses in order to remove the children of traffickers from their control and potential exploitation.

Legal Analysis:

- 3.1 Penalties for trafficking a child for sexual exploitation are as high as federal penalties.

Traffickers of children for commercial sexual exploitation are subject to prosecution under several criminal statutes. A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266 (Trafficking in persons)⁵⁰ or Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.017 (Compelling prostitution)⁵¹ is punishable as a Class B felony by imprisonment up to 10 years and a possible fine not to exceed $250,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 161.605(2), 161.625(1)(c).⁵² A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.670 (Using child in display of sexually explicit conduct)⁵³ is punishable as a Class A felony by imprisonment for up to 20 years and a possible fine not to exceed $375,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 161.605(1), 161.625(1)(b).

Traffickers could face penalties under the racketeering provisions. Or. Rev. Stat. § 166.720 (Racketeering activity unlawful; penalties) states, ⁵⁰ See supra Section 1.1 for the substantive provisions of Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266 (Trafficking in persons).

⁵¹ See supra Section 1.2 for the substantive provisions of Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.017.

⁵² Alternatively, under Or. Rev. Stat. § 161.625(3)(a), “If a person has gained money or property through the commission of a felony, then upon conviction thereof the court, in lieu of imposing the fine authorized for the crime under subsection (1) or (2) of this section, may sentence the defendant to pay an amount, fixed by the court, not exceeding double the amount of the defendant’s gain from the commission of the crime.”

⁵³ See supra Section 1.2 for the substantive provisions of Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.670.

- (1) It is unlawful for any person who has knowingly received any proceeds derived, directly or indirectly, from a pattern of racketeering activity⁵⁴ or through the collection of an unlawful debt to use or invest, whether directly or indirectly, any part of such proceeds, or the proceeds derived from the investment or use thereof, in the acquisition of any title to, or any right, interest or equity in, real property or in the establishment or operation of any enterprise.
- (2) It is unlawful for any person, through a pattern of racketeering activity or through the collection of an unlawful debt, to acquire or maintain, directly or indirectly, any interest in or control of any real property or enterprise.
- (3) It is unlawful for any person employed by, or associated with, any enterprise to conduct or participate, directly or indirectly, in such enterprise through a pattern of racketeering activity or the collection of an unlawful debt.
- (4) It is unlawful for any person to conspire or endeavor to violate any of the provisions of subsections (1), (2) or (3) of this section.
- (5)(a) Any person convicted of engaging in activity in violation of the provisions of subsections (1) to (4) of this section is guilty of a Class A felony.

A conviction under the racketeering provisions is punishable by imprisonment up to 20 years and a possible fine not to exceed $375,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 166.720(4), 161.605(1), 161.625(1)(b).

Traffickers could also face penalties under the money laundering provisions. Or. Rev. Stat. § 164.172 (Engaging in a financial transaction in property derived from unlawful activity) states,

- (1) A person commits the crime of engaging in a financial transaction⁵⁵ in property derived from unlawful activity⁵⁶ if the person knowingly engages in or attempts to engage in a financial transaction in property that:
 - (a) Constitutes, or is derived from, the proceeds of unlawful activity;
 - (b) Is of a value greater than $ 10,000; and
 - (c) The person knows is derived from or represents the proceeds of some form, though not necessarily which form, of unlawful activity.
- (2) (a) Engaging in a financial transaction in property derived from unlawful activity is a Class C felony.
 - (b) In addition to any other sentence of imprisonment or fine that a court may impose and notwithstanding ORS 161.625, a court may include in the sentence of a person convicted under this section a fine in an amount equal to the value of the property involved in the unlawful transaction.

A conviction under the money laundering provisions is punishable by imprisonment up to 5 years and a possible fine not to exceed $125,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 164.172(2)(a), 161.605(3), 161.625(1)(d).

⁵⁴ Or. Rev. Stat. § 166.715(4) (Definitions) defines “pattern of racketeering activity” as “engaging in at least two incidents of racketeering activity that have the same or similar intents, results, accomplices, victims or methods of commission or otherwise are interrelated by distinguishing characteristics, including a nexus to the same enterprise, and are not isolated incidents, provided at least one of such incidents occurred after November 1, 1981, and that the last of such incidents occurred within five years after a prior incident of racketeering activity.” Subsection (6)(a)(J), (T), (CCC) defines “racketeering activity” to include the following relevant offenses: Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266 (Trafficking in persons), § 167.017 (Compelling prostitution), and § 163.670 (Using child in display of sexually explicit conduct).

⁵⁵ Or. Rev. Stat. § 164.172(3)(a) references 164.170 for the definition of “financial transaction.” Or. Rev. Stat. § 164.170(5)(d) states, “(d) ‘Financial transaction’ means a transaction involving: (A) The movement of funds by wire or other means; (B) One or more monetary instruments; (C) The transfer of title to any real property, vehicle, vessel or aircraft; or (D) The use of a financial institution.”

⁵⁶ Pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 164.172(3)(b), “unlawful activity” is defined by Or. Rev. Stat. § 164.170(5)(h), which states, “‘Unlawful activity’ means any act constituting a felony under state, federal or foreign law.”

In comparison, if the victim is under the age of 14, a conviction under the Trafficking Victims Protection Act (TVPA)⁵⁷ for child sex trafficking is punishable by 15 years to life imprisonment and a fine not to exceed $250,000. 18 U.S.C. §§ 1591(b)(1), 3559(a)(1), 3571(b)(3). If the victim is between the ages of 14–17, a conviction is punishable by 10 years to life imprisonment and a fine not to exceed $250,000. 18 U.S.C. §§ 1591(b)(2), 3559(a)(1), 3571(b)(3). A conviction is punishable by mandatory life imprisonment, however, if the trafficker has a prior conviction for a federal sex offense⁵⁸ against a minor.

3.2 Creating and distributing child pornography carries penalties as high as similar federal offenses.

Traffickers who permit a child to be used in child pornography may be prosecuted under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.670(1) (Using child in display of sexually explicit conduct),⁵⁹ which states, “A person commits the crime of using a child⁶⁰ in a display of sexually explicit conduct⁶¹ if the person employs, authorizes, permits, compels or induces a child to participate or engage in sexually explicit conduct for any person to observe or to record in a visual recording.”⁶² Pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.670(2) a conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.670(1) is punishable as a Class A felony by imprisonment up to 20 years and a possible fine not to exceed $375,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 161.605(1), 161.625(1)(b).⁶³

Under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.684 (Encouraging child sexual abuse in the first degree)⁶⁴ states,

- (1) A person commits the crime of encouraging child sexual abuse in the first degree if the person:
 - (a) (A) Knowingly develops, duplicates, publishes, prints, disseminates, exchanges, displays, finances, attempts to finance or sells a visual recording⁶⁵ of sexually explicit conduct⁶⁶ involving a child or knowingly possesses, accesses or views such a visual recording with the intent to develop, duplicate, publish, print, disseminate, exchange, display or sell it; or
 - (B) Knowingly brings into this state, or causes to be brought or sent into this state, for sale or distribution, a visual recording of sexually explicit conduct involving a child; and
 - (b) Knows or is aware of and consciously disregards the fact that creation of the visual recording of sexually explicit conduct involved child abuse.

Pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.684(2), a conviction of Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.684 is punishable as a Class B felony by imprisonment up to 10 years and a possible fine not to exceed $250,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 161.605(2), 161.625(1)(c).

In comparison, if the victim is under the age of 14, a conviction under the TVPA for child sex trafficking is punishable by 15 years to life imprisonment and a fine not to exceed $250,000. 18 U.S.C. §§ 1591(b)(1), 3559(a)(1), 3571(b)(3). If the victim is between the ages of 14–17, a conviction is punishable by 10 years to life imprisonment and a fine not to exceed $250,000. 18 U.S.C. §§ 1591(b)(2), 3559(a)(1), 3571(b)(3). A conviction is punishable by mandatory life imprisonment, however, if the trafficker has a prior conviction for a federal sex offense⁶⁷ against a minor. Additionally, a federal conviction for distribution of child pornography⁶⁸

3.3 Using the Internet to lure, entice, recruit or sell commercial sex acts with a minor is a separate crime or results in an enhanced penalty for traffickers.

Pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.432(1) (Online sexual corruption of a child in the second degree),

(1) A person commits the crime of online sexual corruption of a child⁷¹ in the second degree if the person is 18 years of age or older and:

(a) For the purpose of arousing or gratifying the sexual desire of the person or another person, knowingly uses an online communication⁷² to solicit⁷³ a child to engage in sexual contact⁷⁴ or sexually explicit conduct;⁷⁵ and

(b) Offers or agrees to physically meet with the child.

A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.432(1) is punishable as a Class C felony by imprisonment up to 5 years and a possible fine not to exceed $125,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 163.432(2), 161.605(3), 161.625(1)(d).

Pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.433(1) (Online sexual corruption of a child in the first degree), “A person commits the crime of online sexual corruption of a child in the first degree if the person violates ORS 163.432 [Online sexual corruption of a child in the second degree] and intentionally takes a substantial step toward physically meeting with or encountering the child.” A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.433(1) is punishable as a class B felony by imprisonment up to 10 years and a possible fine not to exceed $250,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 163.433(2), 161.605(2), 161.625(1)(c).

3.4 Financial penalties for traffickers, including asset forfeiture, are sufficiently high.

Traffickers may be required to pay fines up to $375,000. A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266 (Trafficking in persons) or § 167.017 (Compelling prostitution) is punishable as a Class B felony by a possible fine not exceeding $250,000. Or. Rev. Stat. § 161.625(1)(c).⁷⁶ A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.670 (Using child in display of sexually explicit conduct) or § 166.720 (Racketeering activity unlawful) is punishable as a Class A felony by a possible fine not to exceed $375,000. Or. unlawful activity) is punishable as a Class C felony by a possible fine not to exceed $125,000. Or. Rev. Stat. § 161.625(1)(d).

In addition to these provisions, Oregon’s racketeering provisions provide for forfeiture.⁷⁷ Or. Rev. Stat. § 166.725(2) (Remedies for violation of ORS 166.720; time limitation) states in part,

(2) All property, real or personal, including money, used in the course of, derived from or realized through conduct in violation of a provision of ORS 166.715 to 166.735 is subject to civil forfeiture to the state. The state shall dispose of all forfeited property as soon as commercially feasible. If property is not exercisable or transferable for value by the state, it shall expire. All forfeitures or dispositions under this section shall be made with due provision for the rights of innocent persons. . . .

Or. Rev. Stat. § 166.715(6)(a)(CCC) (Racketeering) defines “racketeering activity” as including “ORS 163.263 [Subjecting another person to involuntary servitude in the second degree], 163.264 [Subjecting another person to involuntary servitude in the first degree] or 163.266 [Trafficking in persons].”

Traffickers may also be subject to certain forfeiture provisions. Or. Rev. Stat. § 131.553(1)(e) (Legislative findings; effect on local laws; remedy not exclusive) calls “for the forfeiture of certain property subject to criminal forfeiture under ORS 131.550 to 131.600, to provide for the protection of the rights and interests of affected persons and to provide for uniformity throughout this state with respect to the laws of this state that pertain to the criminal forfeiture of real and personal property based upon prohibited conduct.”

“Prohibited conduct” is defined in Or. Rev. Stat. § 131.550(12) (Definitions) as the following: “(a) For purposes of proceeds, a felony or a Class A misdemeanor. (b) For purposes of instrumentalities, any crime listed in ORS 131.602.” Or. Rev. Stat. § 131.602 (Prohibited conduct for purposes of instrumentalities of crime)⁷⁸ includes the following crimes: Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.670 (Using a child in a display of sexually explicit conduct), § 163.684 (Encouraging child sexual abuse in the first degree), § 163.686 (Encouraging child sexual abuse in the second degree), § 163.687 (Encouraging child sexual abuse in the third degree), § 163.688 (Possession of materials depicting sexually explicit conduct of a child in the first degree), § 163.689 (Possession of materials depicting sexually explicit conduct of a child in the second degree), § 167.007 (Prostitution), patronizing a prostitute as prohibited by enacted House Bill 2714, § 167.012 (Promoting prostitution), § 167.017 (Compelling prostitution), § 163.264 (Subjecting another person to involuntary servitude in the first degree), § 163.263 (Subjecting another person to involuntary servitude in the second degree), § 163.266 (Trafficking in persons), § 167.057 (Luring a minor), § 163.432 (Online sexual corruption of a child in the second degree), § 163.433 (Online sexual corruption of a child in the first degree), and an attempt, conspiracy, or solicitation to commit one of those crimes if it would result in either a felony or a Class A misdemeanor.

Or. Rev. Stat. § 131.558 (Property subject to forfeiture) includes the following in the list of property that is subject to criminal forfeiture:

- (2) All raw materials, products and equipment of any kind that are used, or intended for use, in providing, manufacturing, compounding, processing, delivering, importing or exporting any service or substance in the course of prohibited conduct;
- (3) All property that is used, or intended for use, as a container for property described in subsection . . . (2) of this section;

⁷⁷ Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 166.715–735.

⁷⁸ Or. Rev. Stat. § 131.602 has been amended by House Bill 2714, House Bill 3323, and Senate Bill 376 during the 76th Legislative Assembly. 2011 Or. Laws 151; 2011 Or. Laws 552; 2011 Or. Laws 681. As a result of subsections added and deleted by each of these bills, the offenses listed above would be found in subsections (12)–(17), (90)–(93), and (138)–(144).

(4) All conveyances, including aircraft, vehicles and vessels, that are used, or are intended for use, to transport or facilitate the transportation, sale, receipt, possession or concealment of property described in subsection (1) or (2) of this section, and all conveyances, including aircraft, vehicles and vessels, that are used or intended for use in prohibited conduct or to facilitate prohibited conduct . . .

(5) All books, records, computers and research, including formulae, microfilm, tapes and data that are used or intended for use to facilitate prohibited conduct;
(6) All moneys, negotiable instruments, balances in deposit or other accounts, securities or other things of value furnished or intended to be furnished by any person in the course of prohibited conduct, all proceeds of or from prohibited conduct, and all moneys, negotiable instruments, balances in deposit and other accounts and securities used or intended to be used to facilitate any prohibited conduct;
(7) All real property, including any right, title and interest in the whole of any lot or tract of land and any appurtenances or improvements, that is used or intended to be used to commit or facilitate the commission of prohibited conduct;

(9) All property described in this section that is intended for use in committing or facilitating an attempt to commit a crime as described in ORS 161.405, a solicitation as described in ORS 161.435 or a conspiracy as described in ORS 161.450; and
(10) All personal property that is used or intended to be used to commit or facilitate prohibited conduct.

A trafficker may also be subject to restitution pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 137.106 (Restitution to victims), which requires the district attorney to investigate and present to the court evidence of economic damages suffered as a result of the crime. The court is authorized to order restitution⁷⁹ as part of a criminal case when the crime “has resulted in economic damages.”⁸⁰ Or. Rev. Stat. § 137.106(1).

Furthermore, Or. Rev. Stat. § 30.867(1) (Action for violation of criminal laws relating to involuntary servitude or trafficking in persons) specifically provides the right to civil action for damages suffered by a victim of human trafficking and involuntary servitude irrespective of the initiation or outcome of any criminal action. Victims of these crimes may recover “(a) Both special and general damages, including damages for emotional distress; and (b) Punitive damages,” as well as reasonable attorney fees. Or. Rev. Stat. § 30.867(2), (3). The statute gives victims six years from the date of the conduct to file a civil claim for damages. Or. Rev. Stat. § 30.867(4).

3.5 Convicted traffickers are required to register as sex offenders.

The definition of “sex crime” in Or. Rev. Stat § 181.594 (Definitions), which covers the definitions for the sex offender registry, includes several sex offense laws that could be applicable to certain traffickers, including

- (d) Sexual abuse in any degree;
- ...
- (f) Using a child in a display of sexually explicit conduct;
- (g) Encouraging child sexual abuse in any degree;
- (h) Transporting child pornography into the state;
- ...
- (j) Compelling prostitution;
- (k) Promoting prostitution;
- (l) Kidnapping in the first degree if the victim was under 18 years of age;
- (m) Contributing to the sexual delinquency of a minor;

⁷⁹ See supra note 34.

⁸⁰ See supra note 35.

- (n) Sexual misconduct if the offender is at least 18 years of age;
- (o) Possession of materials depicting sexually explicit conduct of a child in the first degree;
- (p) Kidnapping in the second degree if the victim was under 18 years of age, except by a parent or by a person found to be within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court;
- (q) Online sexual corruption of a child in any degree if the offender reasonably believed the child to be more than five years younger than the offender;
- ...
- (s) Any attempt to commit any of the crimes set forth in paragraphs (a) to (r) of this subsection;

However, neither the Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266 (Trafficking in persons) nor Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.007 (Prostitution) is included in the list of crimes for which a convicted person must register as a sex offender.

3.5.1 Recommendation: Amend Or. Rev. Stat § 181.594 to include Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266 (Trafficking in persons) to the list of sex crimes that require registration as a sex offender.

3.6 Laws relating to termination of parental rights for certain offenses include sex trafficking or CSEC offenses in order to remove the children of traffickers from their control and potential exploitation.

Or. Rev. Stat. § 419B.502 (Termination upon finding of extreme conduct) does not expressly include violations of Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266 (Trafficking in persons) or any of Oregon’s CSEC laws as grounds for terminating parental rights. Instead Or. Rev. Stat. § 419B.502 states in part, “The rights of the parent or parents may be terminated as provided in ORS 419B.500 [Termination of parental rights generally] if the court finds that the parent or parents are unfit by reason of a single or recurrent incident of extreme conduct toward any child.” The actions that the court is directed to consider in determining extreme conduct include, “[r]ape, sodomy or sex abuse of any child by the parent” and “[a]buse or neglect by the parent of any child resulting in death or serious physical injury.” Or. Rev. Stat. § 419B.502(1), (3).

Or. Rev. Stat. § 419B.504 (Termination upon finding of unfitness) allows for termination of parental rights upon a finding that “the parent or parents are unfit by reason of conduct or condition seriously detrimental to the child or ward and integration of the child or ward into the home of the parent or parents is improbable within a reasonable time due to conduct or conditions not likely to change.” “In determining such conduct and conditions” the court is directed to consider, among other things, “[c]onduct toward any child of an abusive, cruel or sexual nature” and “[c]riminal conduct that impairs the parent’s ability to provide adequate care for the child or ward.” Or. Rev. Stat. § 419B.504(2), (6).

While Or. Rev. Stat. § 419B.502 and Or. Rev. Stat. § 419B.504 could apply in the case of traffickers, there is no specific reference to a conviction for trafficking in persons, compelling prostitution, or promoting prostitution of a minor listed as grounds for termination of parental rights.

3.6.1 Recommendation: Amend Or. Rev. Stat. § 419B.502 (Termination upon finding of extreme conduct) and Or. Rev. Stat. § 419B.504 (Termination upon finding of unfitness) to include a violation of Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266 (Trafficking in persons) or any of Oregon’s CSEC laws as grounds for terminating parental rights.

Legal Components:

- 4.1 The acts of assisting, enabling, or financially benefitting from child sex trafficking are included as criminal offenses in the state sex trafficking statute.
- 4.2 Financial penalties, including asset forfeiture laws, are in place for those who benefit financially from or aid and assist in committing domestic minor sex trafficking.
- 4.3 Promoting and selling child sex tourism is illegal.
- 4.4 Promoting and selling child pornography is illegal.

Legal Analysis:

- 4.1 The acts of assisting, enabling, or financially benefitting from child sex trafficking are included as criminal offenses in the state sex trafficking statute.

If force or attempted force can be proven pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat § 163.263 (Subjecting another person to involuntary servitude in the second degree) or Or. Rev. Stat § 163.264 (Subjecting another person to involuntary servitude in the first degree), then Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266 (Trafficking in persons) could apply to facilitators. Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266(1)(b) states a person commits a crime if the person knowingly “[b]enefits financially or receives something of value from participation in a venture that involves an act prohibited by this section or ORS 163.263⁸¹ or 163.264.”⁸² A violation of Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266(1)(b) is punishable as a Class B felony by imprisonment up to 10 years and a possible fine not to exceed $250,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 161.605(2), 161.625(1)(c).⁸³

Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.017(1)(c)⁸⁴ (Compelling prostitution) makes it a crime if any person “[a]ids or facilitates the commission of prostitution by a person under 18 years of age.” A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.017(1)(c) is punishable as a Class B felony by imprisonment up to ten years and a possible fine not to exceed $250,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 161.605(2), 161.625(1)(c). Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.670(1) (Using child in display of sexually explicit conduct) could be applied to facilitators by its statement, “A person commits the crime of using a child in a display of sexually explicit conduct if the person employs, authorizes, permits, compels or induces a child to participate or engage in sexually explicit conduct for any person to observe or to record in a visual recording.” A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.670 is punishable as a Class A felony by imprisonment up to 20 years and a possible fine not to exceed $375,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 161.605(1), 161.625(1)(b).⁸⁵

Facilitators could also face penalties under the money laundering provisions. Or. Rev. Stat. § 164.172 (Engaging in a financial transaction in property derived from unlawful activity) states,

- (1) A person commits the crime of engaging in a financial transaction⁸⁶ in property derived from unlawful activity⁸⁷ if the person knowingly engages in or attempts to engage in a financial transaction in property that:
 - (a) Constitutes, or is derived from, the proceeds of unlawful activity;
 - (b) Is of a value greater than $ 10,000; and

⁸¹ See supra note 2.

⁸² See supra note 3.

⁸³ See supra note 52.

⁸⁴ See supra note 6.

⁸⁵ See supra note 52.

⁸⁶ See supra note 55.

⁸⁷ See supra note 56.

- (c) The person knows is derived from or represents the proceeds of some form, though not necessarily which form, of unlawful activity.
- (2) (a) Engaging in a financial transaction in property derived from unlawful activity is a Class C felony.
- (b) In addition to any other sentence of imprisonment or fine that a court may impose and notwithstanding ORS 161.625, a court may include in the sentence of a person convicted under this section a fine in an amount equal to the value of the property involved in the unlawful transaction.

4.2 Financial penalties, including asset forfeiture laws, are in place for those who benefit financially from or aid and assist in committing domestic minor sex trafficking.

Facilitators convicted under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266 (Trafficking in persons) or Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.017(1)(c) (Compelling prostitution) are punishable as Class B felonies by a possible fine not to exceed $250,000.⁸⁸ Or. Rev. Stat. § 161.625(1)(c). A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.670(1) (Using child in display of sexually explicit conduct) is punishable as a Class A felony by a possible fine not to exceed $375,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §161.625(1)(b).

Under Oregon’s criminal forfeiture provisions, Or. Rev. Stat. § 131.553(1)(c), (e) (Legislative findings; effect on local laws; remedy not exclusive) finds that “[p]erpetrators of crimes should not be allowed to keep the proceeds and instrumentalities of their crimes” and that “[t]here is a need to provide for the forfeiture of certain property subject to criminal forfeiture under ORS 131.550 to 131.600, to provide for the protection of the rights and interests of affected persons and to provide for uniformity throughout this state with respect to the laws of this state that pertain to the criminal forfeiture of real and personal property based upon prohibited conduct.”

Or. Rev. Stat. § 131.558 (Property subject to forfeiture) includes the following in the list of property that is subject to criminal forfeiture:

- (4) All conveyances, including aircraft, vehicles and vessels, that are used, or are intended for use, to transport or facilitate the transportation, sale, receipt, possession or concealment of property described in subsection (1) or (2) of this section, and all conveyances, including aircraft, vehicles and vessels, that are used or intended for use in prohibited conduct or to facilitate prohibited conduct . . .
- . . .
- (5) All books, records, computers and research, including formulae, microfilm, tapes and data that are used or intended for use to facilitate prohibited conduct;
- (6) All moneys, negotiable instruments, balances in deposit or other accounts, securities or other things of value furnished or intended to be furnished by any person in the course of prohibited conduct, all proceeds of or from prohibited conduct, and all moneys, negotiable instruments, balances in deposit and other accounts and securities used or intended to be used to facilitate any prohibited conduct;
- (7) All real property, including any right, title and interest in the whole of any lot or tract of land and any appurtenances or improvements, that is used or intended to be used to commit or facilitate the commission of prohibited conduct;
- . . .
- (10) All personal property that is used or intended to be used to commit or facilitate prohibited conduct.

“Prohibited conduct” is defined in Or. Rev. Stat. § 131.550(12) (Definitions) as the following: “(a) For purposes of proceeds, a felony or a Class A misdemeanor. (b) For purposes of instrumentalities, any crime listed in ORS 131.602.” Or. Rev. Stat. § 131.602 (Prohibited conduct for purposes of instrumentalities of crime) includes trafficking in persons. Or. Rev. Stat § 131.602(140). Notably for those facilitators providing common carrier transportation, Or. Rev. Stat. § 131.558 (Property subject to forfeiture) makes an exception for any common carrier conveyance from seizure in Subsection (4):

All conveyances, including aircraft, vehicles and vessels, that are used, or are intended for use, to transport or facilitate the transportation, sale, receipt, possession or concealment of property described in subsection (1) or (2) of this section, and all conveyances, including aircraft, vehicles and vessels, that are used or intended for use in prohibited conduct or to facilitate prohibited conduct . . .

Facilitators may also be subject to restitution pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 137.106 (Restitution to victims), which requires the district attorney to investigate and present to the court before sentencing evidence of economic damages suffered as a result of the crime. The court is authorized to order restitution⁸⁹ as part of a criminal case when the crime “has resulted in economic damages.”⁹⁰ Or. Rev. Stat. § 137.106(1).

Furthermore, Or. Rev. Stat. § 30.867(1) (Action for violation of criminal laws relating to involuntary servitude or trafficking in persons) specifically provides the right to bring a civil action for damages suffered by a victim of human trafficking and involuntary servitude irrespective of the initiation or outcome of any criminal action. Victims of these crimes may recover, if they prevail, “(a) Both special and general damages, including damages for emotional distress; and (b) Punitive damages,” as well as reasonable attorney fees. Or. Rev. Stat. § 30.867(2), (3). The statute gives victims six years from the date of the conduct to file a civil claim for damages. Or. Rev. Stat. § 30.867(4).

In addition to these provisions, Oregon’s racketeering provisions provide for forfeiture.⁹¹ Or. Rev. Stat. § 166.725(2) (Remedies for violation of ORS 166.720; time limitation) states in part,

All property, real or personal, including money, used in the course of, derived from or realized through conduct in violation of a provision of ORS 166.715 to 166.735 is subject to civil forfeiture to the state. The state shall dispose of all forfeited property as soon as commercially feasible. If property is not exercisable or transferable for value by the state, it shall expire. All forfeitures or dispositions under this section shall be made with due provision for the rights of innocent persons. . . .

Or. Rev. Stat. § 166.715(6)(a)(CCC) (Racketeering) defines “racketeering activity” to include “ORS 163.263 [Subjecting another person to involuntary servitude in the second degree], 163.264 [Subjecting another person to involuntary servitude in the first degree] or 163.266 [Trafficking in persons].”

4.3 Promoting and selling child sex tourism is illegal.

There is no specific law prohibiting the promotion or sale of child sex tourism.

- 4.3.1 Recommendation: Enact a law prohibiting selling or offering to sell travel services that include or facilitate travel for the purpose of engaging in commercial sexual exploitation of a minor or prostitution of a minor, if occurring in Oregon.

4.4 Promoting and selling child pornography is illegal.

Under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.684(1)⁹² (Encouraging child sexual abuse in the first degree), ⁸⁹ See supra note 34.

⁹⁰ See supra note 35.

⁹¹ Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 166.715–.735.

⁹² See supra note 64.

- (a) A person commits the crime of encouraging child sexual abuse in the first degree if the person:
 - (A) Knowingly develops, duplicates, publishes, prints, disseminates, exchanges, displays, finances, attempts to finance or sells a visual recording of sexually explicit conduct involving a child or knowingly possesses, accesses or views such a visual recording with the intent to develop, duplicate, publish, print, disseminate, exchange, display or sell it; or
 - (B) Knowingly brings into this state, or causes to be brought or sent into this state, for sale or distribution, a visual recording of sexually explicit conduct involving a child; and
- (b) Knows or is aware of and consciously disregards the fact that creation of the visual recording of sexually explicit conduct involved child abuse.

A conviction under Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.684 is punishable as a Class B felony punishable by imprisonment up to 10 years and a possible fine not to exceed $250,000. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 163.684(2), 161.605(2), 161.625(1)(c).

Legal Components:

- 5.1 A victim of domestic minor sex trafficking or CSEC is defined as a victim for purposes of qualifying for crime victims' compensation and other victim benefits.
- 5.2 The state sex trafficking statute expressly prohibits a defendant from raising consent of the minor to the commercial sex acts as a defense.
- 5.3 Prostitution laws apply only to adults, making minors under 18 specifically immune from this offense.
- 5.4 Commercially sexually exploited children are provided with a child protection response, including specialized shelter and services, and are not detained in juvenile detention facilities.
- 5.5 Commercial sexual exploitation is identified as a type of abuse and neglect within child protection statutes.
- 5.6 The definition of "caregiver" (or similar term) in the child welfare statutes is broad enough to include a trafficker who has custody or control of a child in order to bring a trafficked child into protection of child protective services.
- 5.7 Crime victims' compensation is specifically available to a child victim of sex trafficking or CSEC without regard to ineligibility factors.
- 5.8 Victim-friendly procedures and protections are provided in the trial process for minors under 18.
- 5.9 Expungement or sealing of juvenile arrest or criminal records resulting from arrests or adjudications for prostitution-related offenses committed as a result of, or in the course of, the commercial sexual exploitation of a minor is available within a reasonable time after turning 18.
- 5.10 Victim restitution and civil remedies are authorized by law for minor victims of sex trafficking or CSEC.
- 5.11 Statutes of limitations for civil and criminal actions for child sex trafficking or CSEC offenses are eliminated or lengthened sufficiently to allow prosecutors and victims a realistic opportunity to pursue criminal actions and legal remedies.

Legal Analysis:

- 5.1 A victim of domestic minor sex trafficking or CSEC is defined as a victim for purposes of qualifying for crime victims' compensation and other victim benefits.

Under Oregon's compensation of crime victim provisions, codified in Chapter 147 of Oregon Revised Statutes, a "victim" is defined in part as "[a] person: (A) Killed or injured in this state as a result of a compensable crime⁹³ perpetrated or attempted against that person; . . . (D) Killed or injured in another state as a result of a criminal episode that began in this state" Or. Rev. Stat. § 147.005(15)(a) (Definitions).⁹⁴

Victims of certain offenses are defined as particular parties. Pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 131.125(4) (Time limitations),⁹⁵ "In the case of crimes described in subsection (2)(m) [Using a child in a display of sexual conduct under ORS 163.670] of this section, the victim is the child engaged in sexual conduct. . . . In the case of crimes described in subsection (2)(p) [Promoting prostitution under ORS 167.012] and (q) [Compelling prostitution under ORS 167.017] of this section, the victim is the child whose acts of prostitution are promoted or compelled."

⁹³ Or. Rev. Stat. § 147.005(4) (Definitions) defines "compensable crime" as "abuse of corpse in any degree or an intentional, knowing, reckless, or criminally negligent act that results in serious bodily injury or death of another person and that, if committed by a person of full legal capacity, would be punishable as a crime in this state."

⁹⁴ Here and elsewhere in this report that Or. Rev. Stat. § 147.005 is quoted or cited, the language has been updated to reflect the passage of House Bill 3021 in the 76th Legislative Assembly. 2011 Or. Laws 125 (effective upon passage).

⁹⁵ Here and elsewhere in this report that Or. Rev. Stat. § 131.125 is quoted or cited, the language has been updated to reflect the passage of House Bill 2940 in the 76th Legislative Assembly. 2011 Or. Laws 666 (effective upon passage).

5.2 The state sex trafficking statute expressly prohibits a defendant from raising consent of the minor to the commercial sex acts as a defense.

Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266 (Trafficking in persons) and CSEC laws do not refer to a defense based on the consent of the minor to the commercial sex act. However, the code does not specifically prohibit a defendant from raising such a defense.

- 5.2.1 Recommendation: Add a provision that expressly prohibits a consent defense for commercial sexual exploitation of children offenses, such as human trafficking and prostitution when the victim is a minor.

5.3 Prostitution laws apply only to adults, making minors under 18 specifically immune from this offense.

Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.007 (Prostitution) applies to adults as well as minors and fails to specifically make minors immune from prosecution for prostitution or to specifically identify a minor engaged in prostitution as a victim of sex trafficking.

If force or attempted force can be proven in the case pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.263 (Subjecting another person to involuntary servitude in the second degree) and § 163.264 (Subjecting another person to involuntary servitude in the first degree), then Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.269 (Victim assertion of defense of duress) states,

A person who is the victim of a crime described in ORS 163.263 [Subjecting another person to involuntary servitude in the second degree], 163.264 [Subjecting another person to involuntary servitude in the first degree], or 163.266 [Trafficking in persons] may assert the defense of duress, as described in ORS 161.270 [Duress], if the person is prosecuted for conduct that constitutes services under ORS 163.261, that the person was caused to provide.

5.4 Commercially sexually exploited children are provided with a child protection response, including specialized shelter and services, and are not detained in juvenile detention facilities.

Or. Admin. R. 413-015-0210(2) (Determining Department’s Response and Required Time Lines for CPS Information) lays out the requirements for CPS involvement as follows:

- (2) CPS assessment required. A CPS assessment is required if:
- (a) The screener determines that information received constitutes a report of child abuse or neglect, as defined in ORS 419B.005 [Definitions], and the information indicates:
 - (A) The alleged perpetrator is a legal parent of the alleged child victim;
 - (B) The alleged perpetrator resides in the alleged child victim’s home;
 - (C) The alleged perpetrator may have access to the alleged child victim, and the parent or caregiver may not be able or willing to protect the child; or
 - (D) The alleged child abuse occurred in a day care facility, the home of a Department certified foster parent or relative caregiver, or a private child caring agency that is not a Children’s Care Provider (CCP).

Or. Rev. Stat. § 419B.005 (Definitions)⁹⁶ defines “abuse” in part as

- (1)(a) “Abuse” means:

⁹⁶ Here and elsewhere in this report that Or. Rev. Stat. § 419B.005 is quoted or cited, the language has been updated to reflect the passage of House Bill 2714 in the 76th Legislative Assembly. 2011 Or. Laws 151 (effective upon passage).

- (A) Any assault, as defined in ORS chapter 163, of a child and any physical injury to a child which has been caused by other than accidental means, including any injury which appears to be at variance with the explanation given of the injury.
- (B) Any mental injury to a child, which shall include only observable and substantial impairment of the child’s mental or psychological ability to function caused by cruelty to the child, with due regard to the culture of the child.
- (C) Rape of a child, which includes but is not limited to rape, sodomy, unlawful sexual penetration and incest, as those acts are described in ORS chapter 163.
- (D) Sexual abuse, as described in ORS chapter 163.
- (E) Sexual exploitation, including but not limited to:
 - (i) Contributing to the sexual delinquency of a minor, as defined in ORS chapter 163, and any other conduct which allows, employs, authorizes, permits, induces or encourages a child to engage in the performing for people to observe or the photographing, filming, tape recording or other exhibition which, in whole or in part, depicts sexual conduct or contact, as defined in ORS 167.002 or described in ORS 163.665 and 163.670, sexual abuse involving a child or rape of a child, but not including any conduct which is part of any investigation conducted pursuant to ORS 419B.020 or which is designed to serve educational or other legitimate purposes; and
 - (ii) Allowing, permitting, encouraging or hiring a child to engage in prostitution or to patronize a prostitute, as defined in ORS chapter 167.

Officials must report child abuse pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 419B.010(1) (Duty of officials to report child abuse; exceptions; penalty), which states, in part, “Any public or private official having reasonable cause to believe that any child with whom the official comes in contact has suffered abuse or that any person with whom the official comes in contact has abused a child shall immediately report or cause a report to be made in the manner required in ORS 419B.015. . . .” Upon receiving a report, the Department of Human Services or law enforcement agency, must investigate the claim. Or. Rev. Stat. § 419B.020(1)(a). Pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 419B.020(3),

If the law enforcement agency conducting the investigation finds reasonable cause to believe that abuse has occurred, the law enforcement agency shall notify by oral report followed by written report the local office of the department. The department shall provide protective social services of its own or of other available social agencies if necessary to prevent further abuses to the child or to safeguard the child’s welfare.

Or. Rev. Stat. § 417.799(1) (Runaway and homeless youth; delivery of services; planning) makes the State Commission on Children and Families “responsible for coordinating statewide planning for delivery of services to runaway and homeless youth and their families.” Or. Rev. Stat. § 417.799(2) directs the Commission to lead a process that will allow the state commission, the Juvenile Crime Prevention Advisory Committee, the Employment Department, the Department of Human Services, the Housing and Community Services Department, the Department of Community Colleges and Workforce Development, the Department of Education and the Oregon Youth Authority to develop a comprehensive and coordinated approach for services and support for runaway and homeless youth and their families. The approach shall include an assessment of service needs, the integration of existing services and the identification and tracking of a statewide high-level outcome related to runaway and homeless youth and their families.

Pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 419B.150 (When protective custody authorized; disposition of runaway child taken into protective custody),

(1) A child may be taken into protective custody by a peace officer, counselor, employee of the Department of Human Services or any other person authorized by the juvenile court of the county in which the child is found, in the following circumstances:

(a) When the child's condition or surroundings reasonably appear to be such as to jeopardize the child's welfare;

(b) When the juvenile court, by order indorsed on the summons as provided in ORS 419B.839 [Required and discretionary summons] or otherwise, has ordered that the child be taken into protective custody; or

(c) When it reasonably appears that the child has run away from home.

(c) The court may issue an order even though no services have been provided if the court makes written findings that no existing services could eliminate the need for protective custody of the child and that protective custody is in the best interests of the child.

(3) When a child is taken into protective custody as a runaway under subsection (1) of this section, the peace officer or other person who takes the child into custody:

(a) (A) Shall release the child without unnecessary delay to the custody of the child's parent or guardian or to a shelter facility that has agreed to provide care and services to children who have run away from home and that has been designated by the juvenile court to provide such care and services; or

(B) Shall follow the procedures described in ORS 419B.160 [Place of detention; record; parental notice required], 419B.165 [Release of child taken into custody], 419B.168 [Procedure when child is not released] and 419B.171 [Report required when child is taken into custody];

(b) Shall, if possible, determine the preferences of the child and the child's parent or guardian as to whether the best interests of the child are better served by placement in a shelter facility that has agreed to provide care and services to children who have run away from home and that has been designated by the juvenile court to provide such care and services or by release to the child's parent or guardian; and

(c) Notwithstanding ORS 419B.165 and subsection (1) of this section, shall release the child to a shelter facility that has agreed to provide care and services to children who have run away from home and that has been designated by the juvenile court to provide such care and services if it reasonably appears that the child would not willingly remain at home if released to the child's parent or guardian.

Generally, the child shall be released to the parent or other person responsible for the child's care unless an order for protective custody has been issued or "[w]here the person taking the child into custody has probable cause to believe that the welfare of the child or others may be immediately endangered by the release of the child." Or. Rev. Stat. § 419B.165.

Pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 419B.168 (Procedure when child is not released),

(1) If a child taken into protective custody is not released as provided in ORS 419B.165 and the juvenile court for the county has not established the alternative procedure authorized in subsection (4) of this section, the person taking the child into custody shall, without unnecessary delay, do one of the following:

(a) Take the child before the court or a person appointed by the court to effect disposition under ORS 419B.165.

- (b) Take the child to a place of detention or shelter care or a public or private agency designated by the court and as soon as possible thereafter notify the court that the child has been taken into custody.
- (2) Where a child residing in some other county is taken into protective custody the child may be:
 - (a) Released to the child's parent or other responsible person in this state as provided in ORS 419B.165.
 - (b) Delivered to a peace officer or juvenile counselor in the county in which the child resides, if such delivery can be made without unnecessary delay. In such event, the person to whom the child is delivered shall assume protective custody of the child and shall proceed as provided in this chapter.
- (3) Where a child is released or delivered as provided in subsection (2) of this section, the jurisdiction of the juvenile court of the county in which the child resides shall attach from the time the child is taken into custody.
- (4) The juvenile court may establish, as an alternative to the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, that if a child taken into protective custody is not released as provided in ORS 419B.165, procedures shall be followed that comply with the following:
 - (a) The person taking the child into custody may communicate, by telecommunications or otherwise, with the person appointed by the court to effect disposition under ORS 419B.175.
 - (b) After interviewing the person taking the child into custody and obtaining such other information as is considered necessary, the person appointed by the court under ORS 419B.175 to effect disposition may exercise the authority granted under that section and shall, in such case, direct that the person taking the child into custody release the child or deliver the child in accordance with such direction.
 - (c) The person taking the child into custody shall comply with the direction of the person appointed by the court to effect disposition.

Under Or. Rev. Stat. § 419B.175(1) (Initial disposition of child taken into custody), if a child is taken into protective custody, the child shall initially either be released to the custody of a parent

- (a) Release the child to the custody of a parent, guardian or other responsible person;
- (b) Release the child on the child's own recognizance when appropriate;
- (c) Subject to ORS 419B.121 or 419B.180, place the child in shelter care or detention. The child shall be placed in shelter care rather than detention, unless the person has probable cause to believe that the court will be able to detain the child under ORS 419B.121; or
- (d) Pursuant to order of the court made after the filing of a petition, hold, retain or place the child in shelter care subject to further order.

A child in need of protective supervision may be placed with a relative under supervision or placed in the custody of the Department of Human Services. Or. Rev. Stat. §§ 419B.331, 419B.337

A domestic minor sex trafficking victim may also be treated as a delinquent. Pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 419C.080 (Custody; when authorized),

- (1) A peace officer, or any other person authorized by the juvenile court of the county in which the youth is found, may take a youth into custody in the following circumstances:
 - (a) When, if the youth were an adult, the youth could be arrested without a warrant; or

- (b) When the juvenile court, by order indorsed on the summons as provided in ORS 419C.306 or otherwise, has ordered that the youth be taken into custody.
- (2) In any order issued under subsection (1)(b) of this section that may result in a substitute care placement or detention, the court shall include a written finding describing why it is in the best interests of the youth to be taken into custody.

Instead of taking the youth into custody, the peace officer may opt to issue a citation for the offense. Or. Rev. Stat. § 419C.085.

Generally, after taking the youth into custody, the youth should be released to the parent, guardian or other person responsible for care of the child. Or. Rev. Stat. § 419C.100. However, pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 419C.100 (Release of youth taken into custody; exceptions), the youth shall not be released in the following circumstances:

- (1) When the court has issued a warrant of arrest against the youth.
- (2) When the person taking the youth into custody has probable cause to believe that release of the youth may endanger the welfare of the youth, the victim or others.

If the youth is not released, then the youth must be taken to court for disposition or taken to detention, shelter care, or a public or private agency and notify the court. Or. Rev. Stat. § 419C.103(1). Alternatively, pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 419C.103(5) (Procedure when youth is not released; release decision when youth taken into custody resides in other county),

- (5) The juvenile court may establish, as an alternative to the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, that if a youth taken into custody is not released as provided in ORS 419C.100, procedures shall be followed that comply with the following:
 - (a) The person taking the youth into custody may communicate, by telecommunications or otherwise, with the person appointed by the court to effect disposition under ORS 419C.109.
 - (b) After interviewing the person taking the youth into custody and obtaining such other information as is considered necessary, the person appointed by the court under ORS 419C.109 to effect disposition may exercise the authority granted under that section and shall, in such case, direct that the person taking the youth into custody release the youth or deliver the youth in accordance with such direction.
 - (c) The person taking the youth into custody shall comply with the direction of the person appointed by the court to effect disposition.

Additionally, pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 419C.103(3),

- (3) Where a youth residing in some other county is taken into custody the youth may be:
 - (a) Released to the youth's parent, guardian or other responsible person in this state as provided in ORS 419C.100.
 - (b) Delivered to a peace officer or juvenile counselor in the county in which the youth resides, if such delivery can be made without unnecessary delay. In such event, the person to whom the youth is delivered shall assume custody of the youth and shall proceed as provided in this chapter.

Pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 419C.109 (Initial disposition of youth taken into custody), when a child is taken into custody and certain requirements are met, the child may be released to "a parent, guardian or other responsible person,” released on the child’s own recognizance, conditionally released, or placed in shelter care or detention, with a preference for shelter care over detention.

Another route into protection is through Or. Rev. Stat. § 418.015(1) (Custody and care of needy children by department), which states that “[t]he Department of Human Services [DHS] may, in its discretion, accept custody of children and may provide care, support and protective services for children who are dependent or neglected, who have mental or physical disabilities or who for other reasons are in need of public service.” Additionally, pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 418.015(2), DHS “shall accept any child placed in its custody by a court under, but not limited to ORS chapter 419B [Juvenile Code—Dependency] or 419C [Juvenile code Delinquency], and shall provide such services for the child as the department finds to be necessary.”

5.4.1 Recommendation: Enact a law providing specialized multidisciplinary services for minor victims of sex trafficking that will divert them away from delinquency adjudication into child protective services.

5.5 Commercial sexual exploitation is identified as a type of abuse and neglect within child protection statutes.

Or. Admin. R. 413-015-0115(3) (Definitions) defines “child abuse or neglect” to mean “any form of abuse, including abuse through neglect and abuse or neglect by a third party, of a person under age 18.” Or. Rev. Stat. § 419B.005 (Definitions) is one of several statutes listed as statutory authority for Or. Admin. R. 413-015-0115. Or. Rev. Stat. § 419B.005 (Definitions)⁹⁷ defines “abuse” in part as,

(1)(a) “Abuse” means:

- (A) Any assault, as defined in ORS chapter 163, of a child and any physical injury to a child which has been caused by other than accidental means, including any injury which appears to be at variance with the explanation given of the injury.
- (B) Any mental injury to a child, which shall include only observable and substantial impairment of the child’s mental or psychological ability to function caused by cruelty to the child, with due regard to the culture of the child.
- (C) Rape of a child, which includes but is not limited to rape, sodomy, unlawful sexual penetration and incest, as those acts are described in ORS chapter 163.
- (D) Sexual abuse, as described in ORS chapter 163.
- (E) Sexual exploitation, including but not limited to:
 - (i) Contributing to the sexual delinquency of a minor, as defined in ORS chapter 163, and any other conduct which allows, employs, authorizes, permits, induces or encourages a child to engage in the performing for people to observe or the photographing, filming, tape recording or other exhibition which, in whole or in part, depicts sexual conduct or contact, as defined in ORS 167.002 or described in ORS 163.665 and 163.670, sexual abuse involving a child or rape of a child, but not including any conduct which is part of any investigation conducted pursuant to ORS 419B.020 or which is designed to serve educational or other legitimate purposes; and
 - (ii) Allowing, permitting, encouraging or hiring a child to engage in prostitution or to patronize a prostitute, as defined in ORS chapter 167.

5.6 The definition of “caregiver” (or similar term) in the child welfare statutes is broad enough to include a trafficker who has custody or control of a child in order to bring a trafficked child into protection of child protective services.

Or. Admin. R. 413-015-0115(1) (Definitions) defines “caregiver” as “a guardian, legal custodian, or other person acting in loco parentis, who exercises significant authority over and responsibility for a child.” More importantly, pursuant to Or. Admin. R. 413-015-0115(45) the rules define “third-party abuse” as “abuse by a person who is not the child’s parent, not the child’s caregiver or other member of the child’s household, and not a person responsible for the child’s care, custody, and control.” The rules state that “[e]xamples of persons who could be considered as a third-party under this definition include school personnel, day-care providers, coaches, and church personnel.”

5.7 Crime victims’ compensation is specifically available to a child victim of sex trafficking or CSEC without regard to ineligibility factors.

Oregon’s “Compensation of Crime Victims” statutes, codified at Or. Rev. Stat. § 147.005 et. seq., was enacted to provide compensation for victims of specified crimes. Or. Rev. Stat. § 147.015(1) (Eligibility for compensation; generally)⁹⁸ states that “[a] person is eligible for an award of compensation under ORS 147.005 to 147.357 if: (1) The person is a victim, or is a survivor or dependent of a deceased victim, of a compensable crime that has resulted in or may result in a compensable loss.” Or. Rev. Stat. § 147.005(15)(a) (Definitions) defines “victim” in part as “(a) A person: (A) Killed or injured in this state as a result of a compensable crime⁹⁹ perpetrated or attempted against that person . . . (D) Killed or injured in another state as a result of a criminal episode that began in this state;”

However requirements under Or. Rev. Stat. § 147.015 (Eligibility for compensation; generally) may hinder domestic minor sex trafficking victims’ ability to obtain compensation. Or. Rev. Stat. § 147.015 requires that

- (2) The appropriate law enforcement officials were notified of the perpetration of the crime allegedly causing the death or injury to the victim within 72 hours after its perpetration, unless the Department of Justice finds good cause exists for the failure of notification;
- (3) The applicant has cooperated fully with law enforcement officials in the apprehension and prosecution of the assailant or the department has found that the applicant’s failure to cooperate was for good cause;
- (4) The application for compensation is not the result of collusion between the applicant and the assailant of the victim;
- (5) The death or injury to the victim was not substantially attributable to the wrongful act of the victim or substantial provocation of the assailant of the victim; and
- (6) The application for an award of compensation under ORS 147.005 to 147.367 is filed with the department:
 - (a) Within one year of the date of the injury to the victim; or
 - (b) Within such further extension of time as the department for good cause shown, allows.

If a claim is accepted, then, under the rules set out in Or. Rev. Stat. § 147.035(1)–(4) (Compensable losses; rules)¹⁰⁰ compensable losses include the following:

- (1) (a) Except as otherwise provided in ORS 147.025 and 147.390, compensation may be awarded under ORS 147.005 to 147.367 only for losses described in this section.
 - (b) The maximum amount of compensation that may be awarded, in aggregate, to the victim and the survivors and dependents of a deceased victim is $ 47,000.
 - (c) When a compensable crime results in:
 - (A) Injury to a victim, the losses described in subsections (2), (4), (7) and (8) of this section are compensable.

- (2) When a claim for compensation is filed in a case of injury, compensation may be awarded for:
- (a) The victim’s reasonable medical and hospital expenses, including counseling expenses, up to a maximum amount of $ 20,000;
 - (b) Loss of the victim’s earnings, at a maximum rate of $ 400 per week, up to a maximum amount of $ 20,000;
 - (c) The victim’s rehabilitation expenses, up to a maximum amount of $ 4,000; and
 - (d) Expenses related to transportation for the victim’s medical care or counseling, at a rate determined by the Department of Justice, up to a maximum amount of $ 3,000, when:
 - (A) The medical care or counseling is compensable under this section;
 - (B) The medical care or counseling is provided more than 30 miles away from the victim’s residence; and
 - (C) Adequate medical care or counseling is not available in closer proximity to the victim’s residence.

- (4) When a claim for compensation is filed in a case of:
- (a) Rape of a child, child sexual abuse or sexual exploitation, as those terms are described in ORS 419B.005 (1)(a)(C), (D) and (E), counseling expenses of the victim’s family are compensable up to a maximum amount of $ 20,000, less any amounts awarded for the victim’s medical or hospital expenses under subsection (2)(a) of this section.

5.7.1 Recommendation: Add a specific exception to the listed ineligibility criteria for domestic minor sex trafficking victims.

5.8 Victim-friendly procedures and protections are provided in the trial process for minors under 18.

Several victim-friendly criminal justice procedures and protections are statutorily provided for minor victim-witnesses, although none specifically apply in cases of trafficking or compelled prostitution of a minor. Or. Rev. Stat. § 419A.170(1) directs the appointment of a “court appointed special advocate,” or CASA, “[i]n every case under ORS chapter 419B [Juvenile Code: Dependency].” Or. Rev. Stat. § 45.400(1) permits telephone testimony, “[u]pon motion of any party and for good cause shown . . . in any civil proceeding or any proceeding under ORS chapter 419B [Juvenile Code: Dependency].” Or. Rev. Stat. § 44.547 supplies additional protections for child witnesses under 12 years of age, or developmentally disabled persons of any age. These protections may include the following: “[b]reak periods” during the trial proceedings; providing a “waiting area appropriate to the special needs of the witness”; “[r]elaxing the formalities of the proceedings”; “[c]onducting proceedings in clothing other than judicial robes”; “[a]djusting the layout of the courtroom for the comfort of the witness”; and “[c]onducting proceedings outside of the normal courtroom.” Or. Rev. Stat. § 44.547. Or. Rev. Stat. § 40.460(18a), (24), Rule 803, which sets out exceptions to Oregon’s hearsay rule, codified at Or. Rev. Stat. § 40.455 Rule 802, permits closed circuit television testimony in certain criminal or juvenile proceedings involving a child witness under 12 years old as follows:

(18a)(a) A complaint of sexual misconduct, complaint of abuse as defined in ORS 107.705 or 419B.005, complaint of abuse of an elderly person, as those terms are defined in ORS 124.050, or a complaint relating to a violation of ORS 163.205 or 164.015 in which a person 65 years of age or older is the victim, made by the witness after the commission of the alleged misconduct or abuse at issue. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection, such evidence must be confined to the fact that the complaint was made.

(24) Notwithstanding the limits contained in subsection (18a)¹⁰¹ of this section, in any proceeding in which a child under 12 years of age at the time of trial, or a person with a developmental disability as described in subsection (18a)(d) of this section, may be called as a witness to testify concerning an act of abuse, as defined in ORS 419B.005, or sexual conduct performed with or on the child or person with a developmental disability by another, the testimony of the child or person with a developmental disability taken by contemporaneous examination and cross-examination in another place under the supervision of the trial judge and communicated to the courtroom by closed-circuit television or other audiovisual means. Testimony will be allowed as provided in this subsection only if the court finds that there is a substantial likelihood, established by expert testimony, that the child or person with a developmental disability will suffer severe emotional or psychological harm if required to testify in open court. If the court makes such a finding, the court, on motion of a party, the child, the person with a developmental disability or the court in a civil proceeding, or on motion of the district attorney, the child or the person with a developmental disability in a criminal or juvenile proceeding, may order that the testimony of the child or the person with a developmental disability be taken as described in this subsection. Only the judge, the attorneys for the parties, the parties, individuals necessary to operate the equipment and any individual the court finds would contribute to the welfare and well-being of the child or person with a developmental disability may be present during the testimony of the child or person with a developmental disability.

Or. Rev. Stat. § 40.210 Rule 412, protects testifying victims of sexual offenses, described in Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.355 to § 163.427, from the admission of “[r]eputation or opinion evidence of the past sexual behavior¹⁰² of an alleged victim of the crime or a corroborating witness” or “[r]eputation or opinion evidence presented for the purpose of showing that the manner of dress of an alleged victim of the crime incited the crime or indicated consent to the sexual acts alleged in the charge.” The statute provides in part,

(2) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, in a prosecution for a crime described in ORS 163.355 to 163.427, or in a prosecution for an attempt to commit one of these crimes, evidence of a victim’s past sexual behavior other than reputation or opinion evidence is also not admissible, unless the evidence other than reputation or opinion evidence:

- (a) Is admitted in accordance with subsection (4) of this section; and
- (b) Is evidence that:
 - (A) Relates to the motive or bias of the alleged victim;
 - (B) Is necessary to rebut or explain scientific or medical evidence offered by the state; or
 - (C) Is otherwise constitutionally required to be admitted.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, in a prosecution for a crime described in ORS 163.355 to 163.427, or in a prosecution for an attempt to commit one of these crimes, evidence, other than reputation or opinion evidence, of the manner of dress of the alleged victim or a corroborating witness, presented by a person accused of committing the crime, is also not admissible, unless the evidence is:

- (a) Admitted in accordance with subsection (4) of this section; and
- (b) Is evidence that:
 - (A) Relates to the motive or bias of the alleged victim;
 - (B) Is necessary to rebut or explain scientific, medical or testimonial evidence offered by the state;
 - (C) Is necessary to establish the identity of the victim; or
 - (D) Is otherwise constitutionally required to be admitted.

¹⁰¹ Or. Rev. Stat. § 40.460 [Rule 803. Hearsay exceptions; availability of declarant immaterial] states in part, “The following are not excluded by ORS 40.455, even though the declarant is available as a witness: . . . (18a)(a) A complaint of sexual misconduct, complaint of abuse as defined in ORS 107.705 or 419B.005 . . . made by the witness after the commission of the alleged misconduct or abuse at issue. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection, such evidence must be confined to the fact that the complaint was made.”

¹⁰² Or. Rev. Stat. § 40.210 Rule 412 defines “past sexual behavior” as “sexual behavior other than the sexual behavior with respect to which rape, sodomy or sexual abuse or attempted rape, sodomy or sexual abuse is alleged.”

This provision does not apply to Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.266 (Trafficking in persons) or § 167.017 (Compelling prostitution). Therefore, victims of these crimes may be subjected to traumatic cross-examinations in the trials of their traffickers, buyer-exploiters, or both.

5.8.1 Recommendation: Specify application of the Or. Rev. Stat. § 40.210 Rule 412 (Sex offense cases; relevance of victim's past behavior or manner of dress) sex offense shield law to cases of testifying victims of trafficking or prostitution.

5.9 Expungement or sealing of juvenile arrest or criminal records resulting from arrests or adjudications for prostitution-related offenses committed as a result of, or in the course of, the commercial sexual exploitation of a minor is available within a reasonable time after turning 18.

Under Or. Rev. Stat. § 419A.262(2) (Expunction proceedings; notice to victim; effect of expunction; confidentiality; penalties),

Upon application of either a person who is the subject of a record or a juvenile department, or upon its own motion, the juvenile court shall order expunction if, after a hearing when the matter is contested, it finds that:

- (a) At least five years have elapsed since the date of the person's most recent termination;
- (b) Since the date of the most recent termination, the person has not been convicted of a felony or a Class A misdemeanor;
- (c) No proceedings seeking a criminal conviction or an adjudication in a juvenile court are pending against the person;
- (d) The person is not within the jurisdiction of any juvenile court on the basis of a petition alleging an act or behavior as defined in ORS 419B.100 (1)(a) to (c) and (f) or 419C.005; and
- (e) The juvenile department is not aware of any pending investigation of the conduct of the person by any law enforcement agency.

Under Or. Rev. Stat. § 419A.262(4),

When a person who is the subject of a record kept by a juvenile court or juvenile department reaches 18 years of age, the juvenile court, after a hearing when the matter is contested, shall order expunction if:

- (a) The person never has been found to be within the jurisdiction of the court; or
- (b) The conditions of subsection (2) of this section have been met.

Or. Rev. Stat. § 419A.262(7) goes on to state,

Notwithstanding subsections (2) and (4) to (6) of this section, upon application of a person who is the subject of a record kept by a juvenile court or juvenile department, upon application of the juvenile department, or upon its own motion, the juvenile court, after a hearing when the matter is contested, may order expunction of all or any part of the person's record if it finds that to do so would be in the best interests of the person and the public. In the case of an application by the juvenile department or of the court acting upon its own motion, expunction shall not be ordered if actual notice of expunction has not been given to the person in accordance with subsection (10) of this section unless the person has reached 21 years of age.

5.10 Victim restitution and civil remedies are authorized by law for minor victims of sex trafficking or CSEC.

Or. Rev. Stat. § 137.106 (Restitution to victims) requires the district attorney to investigate and present to the court evidence of economic damages suffered as a result of the crime. The court is authorized to order restitution as part of a criminal case when the crime “has resulted in economic damages.”¹⁰³ Or. Rev. Stat. § 137.106(1). Restitution is defined in Or. Rev. Stat. § 137.103(3) (Definitions for ORS 137.101 to 137.109) as “full, partial or nominal payment of economic damages to a victim. Restitution is independent of and may be awarded in addition to a compensatory fine awarded under ORS § 137.101.”

Or. Rev. Stat. § 30.867 (Action for violation of criminal laws relating to involuntary servitude or trafficking in persons) specifically provides the right to bring a civil action for damages suffered by a victim of human trafficking and involuntary servitude irrespective of the initiation or outcome of any criminal action. Victims of these crimes who prevail may recover “(a) Both special and general damages, including damages for emotional distress; and (b) Punitive damages,” as well as reasonable attorney fees. Or. Rev. Stat. § 30.867(2), (3). The statute gives victims six years from the date of the conduct to file a civil claim for damages. Or. Rev. Stat. § 30.867(4).

5.10.1 Recommendation: Amend Or. Rev. Stat. § 30.867 to expressly state that a minor victim of Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.017 (Compelled prostitution) has the right to bring a civil action for damages.

5.11 Statutes of limitations for civil and criminal actions for child sex trafficking or CSEC offenses are eliminated or lengthened sufficiently to allow prosecutors and victims a realistic opportunity to pursue criminal actions and legal remedies.

Or. Rev. Stat. § 131.125(2)¹⁰⁴ (Time limitations) outlines the statute of limitations on bringing criminal actions for felonies.

A prosecution for any of the following felonies may be commenced within six years after the commission of the crime or, if the victim at the time of the crime was under 18 years of age, anytime before the victim attains 30 years of age or within 12 years after the offense is reported to a law enforcement agency or the Department of Human Services, whichever occurs first:

(m) Using a child in a display of sexual conduct under ORS 163.670.

(n) Encouraging child sexual abuse in the first degree under ORS 163.684.

(p) Promoting prostitution under ORS 167.012.

(q) Compelling prostitution under ORS 167.017.

(r) Luring a minor under ORS 167.057.

Or. Rev. Stat. § 131.125(3) (Time limitations) states,

A prosecution for any of the following misdemeanors may be commenced within four years after the commission of the crime or, if the victim at the time of the crime was under 18 years of age, any time before the victim attains 22 years of age or within four years after the offense is reported to a law enforcement agency or the Department of Human services, whichever occurs first:

(b) Sexual abuse in the third degree under ORS 163.415.

(d) Exhibiting an obscene performance to a minor under ORS 167.075.

(e) Displaying obscene materials to minors under ORS 167.080.

Or. Rev. Stat. § 30.867 (Action for violation of criminal laws relating to involuntary servitude or trafficking in persons) specifically provides the right to bring a civil action for damages suffered by a victim of human trafficking and involuntary servitude irrespective of the initiation or outcome of any criminal action. Victims of these crimes who prevail may recover “(a) Both special and general damages, including damages for emotional distress; and (b) Punitive damages,” as well as reasonable attorney fees. Or. Rev. Stat. § 30.867(2), (3). The statute gives victims six years from the date of the conduct to file a civil claim for damages. Or. Rev. Stat. § 30.867(4).

Or. Rev. Stat. § 12.117(1) (Actions based on child abuse), which covers civil proceedings, states,

- (1) Notwithstanding ORS 12.110 [Actions for certain injuries to person not arising on contract], 12.115 [Action for negligent injury to person or property] or 12.160 [Suspension for minors and persons who are insane], an action based on conduct that constitutes child abuse¹⁰⁵ or conduct knowingly allowing, permitting or encouraging child abuse that occurs while the person is under 18 years of age must be commenced before the person attains 40 years of age, or if the person has not discovered the causal connection between the injury and the child abuse, nor in the exercise of reasonable care should have discovered the causal connection between the injury and the child abuse, not more than five years from the date the person discovers or in the exercise of reasonable care should have discovered the causal connection between the child abuse and the injury, whichever period is longer.

FRAMEWORK ISSUE 6: CRIMINAL JUSTICE TOOLS FOR INVESTIGATION AND PROSECUTIONS

Legal Components:

- 6.1 Training on human trafficking and domestic minor sex trafficking for law enforcement is statutorily mandated.
- 6.2 Single party consent to audiotaping is permitted in law enforcement investigations.
- 6.3 Domestic minor sex trafficking investigations may use wiretapping to investigate the crime.
- 6.4 Using a law enforcement decoy posing as a minor to investigate buying or selling of commercial sex acts is not a defense to soliciting, purchasing, or selling sex with a minor.
- 6.5 Using the Internet to investigate buyers and traffickers is a permissible investigative technique.
- 6.6 Law enforcement and child welfare agencies are mandated to promptly report missing and recovered children.

Legal Analysis:

- 6.1 Training on human trafficking and domestic minor sex trafficking for law enforcement is statutorily mandated.

Oregon does not statutorily mandate training on human trafficking. Or. Rev. Stat. § 181.643 (Training in missing persons cases) does state that “[s]ubject to the availability of funds, the Board on Public Safety Standards and Training shall ensure that all police officers and certified reserve officers are trained to investigate and report cases of missing children and adults.

¹⁰⁵ Or. Rev. Stat. § 12.117(2) (Actions based on child abuse) defines “child abuse” to include the following:

- (c) Sexual abuse, as defined in ORS Chapter 163, when the victim is a child; or
- (d) Sexual exploitation of a child, including but not limited to:
 - (A) Conduct constituting a violations of ORS 163.435 and any other conduct which allows, employs, authorizes, permits, induces or encourages a child to engage in the performing for people to observe or the photographing, filming, tape recording or other exhibition which, in whole or in part, depicts sexual conduct or contact; and
 - (B) Allowing, permitting, encouraging or hiring a child to engage in prostitution or to patronize a prostitute, as defined in ORS chapter 167.”

- 6.1.1 Recommendation: Mandate training on human trafficking for law enforcement, incorporate a training component on commercial sexual exploitation of minors into the training on missing children and adult investigations, or both.

6.2 Single party consent to audiotaping is permitted in law enforcement investigations.

Or. Rev. Stat. § 165.543(1) (Interception of communications) states in part,

Except as provided in ORS 133.724 [Order for interception of communications; application; grounds for issuance; contents of order; progress reports] or as provided in ORS 165.540(2)(a), any person who willfully intercepts, attempts to intercept or procures any other person to intercept or attempt to intercept any wire or oral communication where such person is not a party to the communication and where none of the parties to the communication has given prior consent to the interception, is guilty of a Class A misdemeanor.

Or. Rev. Stat. § 133.726(1) (Interception of oral communication without order; order for interception of oral communication; application; grounds for issuance; contents of order; penalties) states, “[A] law enforcement officer is authorized to intercept an oral communication to which the officer or person under direct supervision of the officer is a party, without obtaining an order for the interception of a wire, electronic or oral communication under ORS 133.724” in certain situations. “[A] person is a party to an oral communication if the oral communication is made in the person’s immediate presence and is audible to the person regardless of whether the communication is specifically directed to the person.” Or. Rev. Stat. § 133.726(2).

Or. Rev. Stat. § 133.726(7)–(10) (Interception of oral communication without order; order for interception of oral communication; application; grounds for issuance; contents of order; penalties)¹⁰⁶ also states,

(7) An order under ORS 133.724 or this section is not required when a law enforcement officer intercepts an oral communication to which the officer or a person under the direct supervision of the officer is a party if the oral communication is made by a person whom the officer has probable cause to believe has committed, is engaged in committing or is about to commit:

- (a) A crime punishable as a felony under ORS 475.840 [drugs], 475.846 to 475.894 [drug possession, manufacture] or 475.904 to 475.910 [drugs] or as a misdemeanor under ORS 167.007 [prostitution] or section 3 of this 2011 Act [patronizing prostitution]; or
- (b) Any other crime punishable as a felony if the circumstances at the time the oral communication is intercepted are of such exigency that it would be unreasonable to obtain a court order under ORS 133.724 or this section.

(8) A law enforcement officer who intercepts an oral communication pursuant to this section may not intentionally fail to record and preserve the oral communication in its entirety. A law enforcement officer, or a person under the direct supervision of the officer, who is authorized under this section to intercept an oral communication is not required to exclude from the interception an oral communication made by a person for whom probable cause does not exist if the officer or the person under the officer’s direct supervision is a party to the oral communication.

(9) A law enforcement officer may not divulge the contents of an oral communication intercepted under this section before a preliminary hearing or trial in which an oral communication is going to be introduced as evidence against a person except:

- (a) To a superior officer or other official with whom the law enforcement officer is cooperating in the enforcement of the criminal laws of this state or the United States;
- (b) To a magistrate;
- (c) In a presentation to a federal or state grand jury; or ¹⁰⁶ Here and elsewhere in this report that Or. Rev. Stat. § 133.726(7) is quoted or cited, the language has been updated to reflect the passage of House Bill 2714 in the 76th Legislative Assembly. 2011 Or. Laws 151 (effective upon passage).

- (d) In compliance with a court order.
- (10) A law enforcement officer may intercept an oral communication under this section only when acting within the scope of the officer's employment and as a part of assigned duties.

6.3 Domestic minor sex trafficking investigations may use wiretapping to investigate the crime.

Or. Rev. Stat. § 133.724¹⁰⁷ outlines criteria for applying to intercept wire communications, stating that, among other things, the “application shall include . . . (c) A statement demonstrating that there is probable cause to believe that an individual is committing, has committed or is about to commit” certain listed crimes, including “[a] particular felony of murder, kidnapping, arson, robbery, bribery, extortion or other crime dangerous to life and punishable as a felony,” or felony racketeering activity under Or. Rev. Stat. § 166.720, prostitution under Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.007, or patronizing prostitution prohibited by enacted House Bill 2714. Or. Rev. Stat. § 133.726(3)–(6) also outlines criteria for ex parte orders for intercepting oral communications, including situations where the application states, among other things, that “[t]here is probable cause to believe that a person whose oral communication is to be intercepted is engaged in committing, has committed or is about to commit a particular felony, or a misdemeanor under ORS 167.007 [Prostitution] or section 3 of this 2011 Act [patronizing prostitution], and that intercepting the oral communication will yield evidence thereof.”

Or. Rev. Stat. § 133.733 does not permit “[t]he contents of any wire, electronic or oral communication intercepted under ORS 133.724, or evidence derived therefrom” from being “received in evidence or otherwise disclosed in any trial, hearing or other proceeding in any court of this state unless each party, not less than 10 days before the trial, hearing or proceeding, has been furnished with a copy of the court order, and accompanying application, under which the interception was authorized or approved.” This period may be judicially waived.

- 6.3.1 Recommendation: Amend Or. Rev. Stat. § 133.724 to include Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.012 (Promoting prostitution), § 167.017 (Compelling prostitution), § 163.266 (Trafficking in persons), and § 163.670 (Using child in display of sexually explicit conduct) when the victim is a minor, in the list of offenses for which an ex parte order for interception of wire, electronic, or oral communications may be issued.

6.4 Using a law enforcement decoy posing as a minor to investigate buying or selling of commercial sex acts is not a defense to soliciting, purchasing, or selling sex with a minor.

Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.434(2) (Provisions applicable to online sexual corruption of a child) states that “[i]t is not a defense to a prosecution for online sexual corruption of a child in the first or second degree that the person was in fact communicating with a law enforcement officer . . . or a person working under the direction of a law enforcement officer, who is 16 years of age or older.”

Pursuant to Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.057 (Luring a minor)¹⁰⁸ an offender of this provision is prevented from asserting a defense “that the person to whom the representation, description or account was furnished or with whom the representation, description or account was used was not a minor but was a law enforcement officer posing as a minor.” Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.057(4).

- 6.4.1 Recommendation: Amend Or. Rev. Stat. § 167.017 (Compelling prostitution), § 163.266(1) (Trafficking in persons), and § 167.007 (Prostitution) to eliminate a potential defense by a trafficker or buyer of sex with a minor or an attempted trafficker or buyer of sex with a minor that the “minor” was in fact a law enforcement officer or someone assisting law enforcement to investigate.

6.5 Using the Internet to investigate buyers and traffickers is a permissible investigative technique.

Or. Rev. Stat. § 163.434(2) (Provisions applicable to online sexual corruption of a child) states that “[i]t is not a defense to a prosecution for online sexual corruption of a child in the first or second degree that the person was in fact communicating with a law enforcement officer . . . or a person working under the direction of a law enforcement officer, who is 16 years of age or older.”

6.6 Law enforcement and child welfare agencies are mandated to promptly report missing and recovered children.

Or. Rev. Stat § 146.181(1) (Missing persons; police report; supplementary report) states,

When a person is reported as missing to any city, county or state police agency, the agency, within 12 hours thereafter, shall enter into state and federal records maintained for that purpose, a report of the missing person in a format and according to procedures established by the authorities responsible respectively for the state and federal records.

Or. Rev. Stat. § 181.505(1) (Establishment and maintenance of missing persons clearinghouse) directs the Oregon State Police to “establish and maintain a missing children and adults clearinghouse that receives from and distributes to local law enforcement agencies, school districts, state and federal agencies and the general public information regarding missing children and adults.” Under Or. Rev. Stat § 181.506(1), (4) (Duties of administrator of clearinghouse), the administrator of the clearinghouse is directed to, among other things, “[p]rovide information and training to local law enforcement agencies and child welfare agencies and to other state agencies having child welfare duties” and “[m]aintain a 24-hour hotline to receive and provide information on missing children and adults.”
