THE CASE AGAINST HUMAN TRAFFICKING:
WHAT EVERYONE SHOULD KNOW

Join a panel of federal, state and local experts to explore today’s growing $32 billion worldwide criminal enterprise, victimizing over 100,000 U.S. children with an average age of 13. This discussion will cover myth vs. reality, victim identification, investigative techniques, prosecution of actual cases, survivor support services, and the state of our laws.

WHEN: November 14, 2013 – 6:00-8:00 p.m.
WHERE: University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law
Ceremonial Moot Courtroom - Room 160E
500 West Baltimore Street
Baltimore, Maryland 21201

WHY: Learn what human trafficking is today, who is at risk, and what you can do to fight this crime.

PANELISTS:
Shruti Rana, Esquire - Associate Professor University of Maryland School of Law
Samantha Healy Vardaman, Esquire - Shared Hope International
Kate N. Reilly, Special Agent - Homeland Security Investigations
Michael J. Mizer, Supervisory Special Agent - FBI, Maryland Child Exploitation Task Force
LisaMarie Freitas, Special Assistant US Attorney - U.S. Department of Justice Child Exploitation and Obscenity Section
Margaret Mande, Special Agent - FBI, Maryland Child Exploitation Task Force
Rakesh Patel, Deputy Director - Criminal Division - Office of the Maryland Attorney General
Amanda K. Rodriguez, Esquire, Assistant State’s Attorney - Baltimore County
Jessica Emerson, LMSW, J.D. - Equal Justice Works Fellow - The Women’s Law Center of Maryland, Inc.

PRESENTED BY: IWIRC Greater Maryland Network in cooperation with the University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law

SPONSORED BY: The Carey School of Law Women, Leadership & Equality Program, Law Students for Reproductive Justice, Students Supporting Women’s Law Center, and the Women’s Bar Association

RSVP: Please RSVP by November 8, 2013 to dllewellyn@venable.com

RECEPTION TO FOLLOW
No cost for event or reception

For more information on IWIRC or the event: http://www.iwirc.com/networks/baltimore/events