

Report Cards on Child & Youth Sex Trafficking

State Action. National Change.

IDAHO

The Report Cards on Child & Youth Sex Trafficking Advanced Legislative Framework builds on the original Protected Innocence Challenge Framework, preserving the most fundamental components while including new policy priorities that reflect feedback and research from the field—particularly in the area of victim protections. The advanced framework will be used to grade the states next fall when we release the inaugural Report Cards on Child & Youth Sex Trafficking. As such, the 2021 legislative session is a critical time for your state to strengthen its laws before report cards and corresponding grades are issued.

So what is IDAHO's current score and what changes are needed? As of August 1, 2019, IDAHO HAD RAISED ITS GRADE FROM F TO C:

IDAHO

2019	SCORE	GRADE	7.5	21	15	5	16.5	12
	77	C	10	25	15	10	27.5	15
2011	52.5	F	5	14.5	11	3.5	8.5	10
			10	25	15	10	27.5	15

Idaho's human trafficking law includes sex trafficking of minors without requiring proof of force, fraud, or coercion or third party control. However, state law does not prohibit a minor from being prosecuted for the crime of prostitution. While specialized services are afforded through a mandatory diversion process, commercially sexually exploited youth must endure an inherently punitive response in order to access them.

To support implementation of the Report Cards on Child & Youth Sex Trafficking Advanced Legislative Framework, our Policy Team will remain available to provide rapid, technical assistance to support legislators, advocates, and state agencies; technical assistance requests can be submitted here.

To learn more about the Report Cards on Child & Youth Sex trafficking, visit our page: sharedhope.org/reportcards

Contact your legislators today about the Report Cards and important issues related to child and youth sex trafficking in your state by visiting our action center: act.sharedhope.org/reportcards